Fighting Erupts On Israel's Border

2 Israelis, 1 Syrian Killed

JERUSALEM (AP) — An armed clash erupted on Israel's border with Syria today, bringing the first fatalities since the Middle East crisis broke out. Israel's army spokesman said two Israelis and a Syrian were killed.

The fighting came a few hours after the appointment of Gen. Moshe Dayan, a vigorous fighting man and architect of Israel's triumph over Egypt in the Suez war of 1956, as defense minister. Israel looked to Dayan to prosecute a vigorous policy.

The skirmishing was at the village of Kfar Hanassi, populated by settlers from the United States. It is less than a mile from Syria's border.

An Israeli army spokesman said a patrol encountered four armed Syrians as they were returning to Syria. Found near the Syrian's body were a submachine gun, two antipersonnel mines and ammunition.

It was the second day of firing on Israel's border with its Arab neighbors. Jordan said it opened fire Thursday on an Israeli helicopter that flew over its half of divided Jerusalem. Israel said a shell burst hit a house but no casualties were reported.

As the border incidents added to war jitters, French President Charles de Gaulle spoke out on the Middle East crisis, warning that any nation opening fire will have "neither the approval nor support" of France. Arab states have considered France a friend in the crisis although it has sold arms to Israel in the past.

"The worst thing which could happen would be the opening of hostilities," De Gaulle said in a Paris statement.

De Gaulle again called for the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France to try to solve the crisis—a call received coolly by the Russians although arousing interest in Washington and London.

Egypt showed no sign of backing down in the confrontation with Israel, which began early this month after its ally Syria charged the Israelis threatened an invasion.

Egypt threatened to close the Suez Canal to any nation that tries to break the blockade President Gamal Abdel Nasser has proclaimed in the Gulf of Aqaba.

At the north end of the gulf lies Elath, the Israeli port that imports most of the nation's oil. Israel has warned it will not wait indefinitely for the Western powers to work out a plan to nullify the blockade.

Premier Levi Eshkol Thursday night gave up the defense post and named the 52-year-old, one-eyed war hero and political ally of former Premier David Ben-Gurion.

The appointment was warmly welcomed in Israel, though opinion was divided whether it promised a challenge soon to the Egyptian forces threatening Israel's southern shipping route through the Gulf of Aqaba or the Arab legions massed on Israel's frontiers.

Some Israeli hawks expect their government to take a stronger milltary posture. Doves said Eshkol would have to approve any change in policy, and so far he and Foreign Minister Abba Eban have been following the advice of the United States and others to keep their forces leashed while a diplomatic solution to the crisis is sought.

However, Dayan's appointment was expected in Israel to make a strong impression on the Arabs, who remember his successful leadership in the 1956 Sinai war.

Ben-Gurion hailed Dayan's reentry into the military field as "a very important step."

"It will give the country a wise and courageous leadership," he said.

The semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al Ahram, Nasser's usual mouthpiece, claimed that the armed forces now control Israel and predicted that Premier Levhi Eshkol's government would be overthrown soon unless it takes military action against the Egyptian blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba.

Al Ahram warned that Egypt may shut off the Suez Canal to any nation trying to break the blockade it has imposed on the gulf between the Red Sea and Israel's southern port, Elath.

In a move to forestall any attempt by U.S. and British warships to break the blockade, Al Ahram said Cairo would regard such attempts as aggression and exercise its right to bar the aggressor's ships from the Suez Canal under the 1888 Treaty of Constantinople.

The paper said Nasser's government was drawing up a plan to meet "attempts by the United States and Britain to pressure and provoke Egypt."

Al Ahram also charged that passage of the U.S. aircraft carrier Intrepid through the Suez Canal Thursday "represented an American show of force even though the captain told canal authorities the ship was bound for the Indian Ocean."

The Intrepid, with 78 jet fighters aboard, steamed southeast through the Red Sea Thursday night. The U.S. Defense Department said she was bound for Vietnam.

U.S. leaders in Washington were reported still hopeful a way could be found out of the Middle East crisis without a test of force against Nasser's blockade of Israeli shipping.

A sweeping review of the situation and plans for future developments were high on the agenda for a White House conference today between President Johnson and British Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

Kuwait's oil minister, Abdul Rahman Alatiqi, said the oil conference would also warn oil companies that shipment of petroleum to countries supporting Israel would mean immediate abrogation of their concessions. British and American interests predominate in Kuwait, one of the Middle East's biggest oil producers.

King Hassan II of Morocco sent a message to all Arab governments proposing a summit meeting on the crisis, Moroccan offciials dsiclosed.

Defers Personal Levy

Shafer Tax Plan Greeted 'Coolly'

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer's proposal for a deferred personal income tax met with a relatively cool reception today from both Republicans and Democrats alike.

Shafer proposed in a message to the General Assembly Thursday to balance his 1967-68 $1.861 billion budget with a $267 million tax package drawn without the immediate imposition of a personal income tax.

However, he asked the legislature to enact an adjusted income tax, ranging between a minimum of one-tenth of 1 per cent to a maximum of 1 per cent, to take effect once the state budget exceeded $1.9 billion and could not be balanced from the existing tax structure. The rate would be determined by the deficit.

"Our present tax structure simply cannot sustain the demands that we are placing upon it," Shafer said in his 2,500-word address to a joint session of the House and Senate.

"There is no knowledgeable politician or citizen in this state, whether Republican or Democrat, who does not know deep in his heart that a personal income tax is inevitable for Pennsylvania."

Republicans seemed gratified that the necessity of the income tax can be avoided this year, while Democrats stoutly insisted that Shafer would have to prove his revenue needs to them before they lent any votes for a tax program.

Confided one Republican leader:

"With the exception of the income tax, I feel we can enact a tax program easily without Democratic votes to balance the 1967-68 budget."

House GOP Majority Leader Lee A. Donaldson observed:

"Our caucus seemed relieved that we did not have to resort to a broad-based tax this year."

Democratic Minority Leader Herbert Fineman said he was unalterably opposed to a deferred income tax.

"I'm not about to provide him (Shafer) with a blank check to carry him through the next four years. Such a tax would only encourage profligate spending. He's going to have to prove his revenue figures to us before we vote for any taxes."

Shafer, in proposing the deferred income tax, said it was vital to long-range budget planning.

"Either we give up the effort to provide Pennsylvania with the quality education system and other services her people desire and need, or we move to an income tax," he declared.

He further maintained the income tax would not take as much in taxes as some opponents would have the people believe. An average family of five, with an annual income of $7,500, would pay only $36.50 a year, he said.

Republican Senate Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup concluded that Shafer's program had "vision," adding: "I think we ought to try and face it."

Shafer told the legislators that by cutting his $1.861 billion budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 by $70 million, he was able to avoid the necessity of recommending an income tax this time around.

U.N. Council Deadlocked On Mideast

Next Session Called Off Until Saturday; Private Talks Fail

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council was reported tightly deadlocked on the Middle East crisis today, and the next council session was postponed until Saturday.

The council had been expected to vote today on two rival proposals for cooling off the tense situation. But informed sources said a day of private talks had failed to muster sufficient agreement on either a U.S. resolution or an Egyptian proposal, nor had an acceptable alternative been found.

Diplomats at U.N. headquarters said that if the council did agree on a resolution, it would probably be no more than an appeal to Israel and the Arab countries to exercise restraint.

Efforts to bring U.S. and Soviet representatives together for a private meeting failed. Western diplomats said one of the major difficulties had been the reluctance of the Russians to say what action, if any, they wanted the council to take.

The U.S. resolution appeared on the surface to be noncontroversial. It merely called on the nations concerned to heed Secretary-General U Thant's appeal for a breathing spell and urged diplomatic efforts to reach "unreasonable, peaceful and just solutions."

Its introduction, however, quoted the secretary-general's appeal which asked specifically that the parties "forego belligerence"—a phrase interpreted by U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg to include the Egyptian blockade of Israeli shipping in the Gulf of Aqaba.

Goldberg's interpretation reportedly made the U.S. resolution unacceptable to the Arabs and therefore to the Soviet Union.

The Egyptian resolution, sponsored by India as a council member, was said by diplomats to be doomed by references to Israel's alleged responsibility for the present deterioration in the Middle East situation.

Scholarship Program

65 Will Get Aid In Dollars Drive

Sixty - five students from seven area school districts will receive approximately $24,000 in aid, according to an announcement of the Awards Committee of the Citizens Scholarship Foundation.

The funds will come from cash received, pledges made and additional funds expected to be received by the Dollars for Scholars Foundation.

The committee pointed out that last year 87 students received a total of $27,500.

This year's campaign goal was $27,500.

ALTHOUGH most of the house - to - house solicitations of the seven districts exceeded last years' figures, the contributions from businesses and civic organizations have fallen down considerably over last year, Jackman S. Vodrey, campaign vice president, said.

The shrinkage in funds has had a serious effect upon the number of students which the foundation will be able to help this year.

Last year there were 110 applicants, of whom 87 received aid. This is because the foundation has sufficient funds to help every student who was able to show need. This year, by contrast, 140 students applied for aid, 32 were rejected by the Awards Committee because under the procedures used by the foundation in determining a student's need it was found that this group did not show sufficient need to warrant aid from the foundation.

This left 108 students, all of whom showed need. From this group, the committee first awarded scholarships to the 41 reapplicants who had received aid last year from the foundation, and who were students in good standing at their colleges. These students received $15,400. of the $24,000 available. This left 67 new applicants who showed need, but only $8,600. to be allocated among them.

After ranking these students according to scholarship achievement, participation and leadership — indicating activities, and self - help initiative, the foundation was able to help only 24.

THIS MEANS that 43 students who showed a definite need were not awarded scholarships because the Awards Committee simply did not have enough funds with which to work, Vodrey explained. He once more urged all persons, businesses or organizations who still wish to contribute to send their contri-

Kills 150 Of Enemy

South Viet Force 'Chops Up' Reds

SAIGON (AP) — A task force of South Vietnamese paratroopers and infantry with thunderous air and artillery support chopped up a crack Communist battalion just south of the demilitarized zone today and killed at least 150 of the enemy, the Vietnamese Command announced.

A few miles to the west U.S. Marines were calling in air and artillery against a bunkered Communist ridgeline where dug-in North Vietnamese regulars killed 13 Marines and wounded 63 on Thursday.

The fighting raged a few miles below the 17th parallel dividing Vietnam, an area where the Communists have shown every willingness to feed in fresh troops for a growing war of attrition.

The 5,000-man South Vietnamese task force of paratroopers, infantry and armored vehicles ran into the crack Viet Cong 708th Mobile Battalion within five miles of the U.S. Marine base at Dong Ha.

The South Vietnamese jumped off on a widespread sweep at dawn and within hours hit the guerrilla battalion of about 500 men in a coastal area of sand dunes, low hills and brush where it has long operated. The battle northeast of Quang Tri City was the third in the area in the past two weeks.

To the west, the Marines were attempting to dislodge the North Vietnamese from a low ridgeline that gives them observation of Con Thien and Camp Carrol, two bunkered Marine outposts just below the demilitarized zone.

In this area where sawgrass grows five feet high, the Marines hit a strong Communist force near noon Thursday and battled them until sundown, running into well prepared bunkers and trenches.

Inching forward since then, the Marines directed a hail of artillery and jet strikes on the Red fortifications.

There was no report yet of enemy casualties in the continuing battle.

Scattered actions and Red mortar fire were reported all along the area below the zone, an area shielding the five politically shaky provinces of northern South Vietnam. Sporadic fighting also was reported throughout the five provinces, where Communist infiltration efforts have concentrated for months.

In the southernmost — Quang Ngai — U.S. Army troops sent last month to relieve pressure on the Marines pursued a Red force dislodged from a mile-long bunker complex by naval gunfire Thursday. A spokesman said that no details had been received on what was found in the bunkered fortress uncovered by the fiery naval rocket barrage.

Death Ruled County's 12th Road Fatality

County's 1967 Traffic Toll
12 KILLED
This date in 1966—11 killed!
NO NEED FOR SPEED

A ruling by the Allegheny County coroner at Pittsburgh has added another traffic fatality to Columbiana County's toll for 1967.

Dr. William Hunt has ruled Joseph Hryckowian, 45, of Baden, injured in an April car - truck collision just north of East Liverpool, died as a result of the mishap.

Hryckowian died Sunday at Dixmont State Hospital and physicians there attributed the death to a combination of pneumonia, a coronary condition and brain damage.

He was driver of a car which hit the rear of a tractor-trailer rig on Route 30, and was subsequently treated for head injuries at hospitals here and at Pittsburgh, and was later transferred to the state hospital.

Dr. Hunt said the injuries suffered in the mishap resulted in his death Sunday.

Columbiana County now has 12 traffic deaths, compared with 11 at this time last year.

Road Safety Bill OK'd By Ohio's House

Reflectorized Auto Tag Bill Approved; May Increase Fees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An omnibus highway safety bill cleared the Ohio House intact Thursday and all but overshadowed a Senate measure that figures to bring higher fees for auto license tags.

The Senate bill, passed by a vote of 20-12, would require reflectorized license plates after January 1969 but in its present form would boost manufacturing costs by $2 million and pass the cost on to local governments.

Sen. Robert E. Stockdale R-31 Portage, chairman of the Senate Committee on Urban and Highway Affairs, coupled his support of the measure with a prediction that higher license fees to make up the difference "are in the cards."

"Ohio has one of the lowest license fees in the nation and in my opinion, they will have to be increased to meet the cost of this legislation and also to implement some of the programs in the omnibus highway safety bill," the former Portage County sheriff said.

Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray R-3 Miami led the floor fight against the bill on grounds that its value as a safety factor was overweighed by the financial burden it would place on already beleaguered local governments.

He pointed out that additional manufacturing costs estimated at 30-40 cents for a set of plates could cost several major counties many thousands of dollars. He said Cuyahoga stands to lose $300,000 a year, Hamilton $151,000, and Franklin $145,000.

The loss would come in reductions in highway funds returned to political subdivisions from license fee collections. "This is not a time for us to stand on the floor of this Senate and reduce the dollars available to local governments," Gray argued.

2 Israelis, 1 Syrian Killed

JERUSALEM (AP) — An armed clash erupted on Israel's border with Syria today, bringing the first fatalities since the Middle East crisis broke out. Israel's army spokesman said two Israelis and a Syrian were killed.

The fighting came a few hours after the appointment of Gen. Moshe Dayan, a vigorous fighting man and architect of Israel's triumph over Egypt in the Suez war of 1956, as defense minister. Israel looked to Dayan to prosecute a vigorous policy.

The skirmishing was at the village of Kfar Hanassi, populated by settlers from the United States. It is less than a mile from Syria's border.

An Israeli army spokesman said a patrol encountered four armed Syrians as they were returning to Syria. Found near the Syrian's body were a submachine gun, two antipersonnel mines and ammunition.

It was the second day of firing on Israel's border with its Arab neighbors. Jordan said it opened fire Thursday on an Israeli helicopter that flew over its half of divided Jerusalem. Israel said a shell burst hit a house but no casualties were reported.

As the border incidents added to war jitters, French President Charles de Gaulle spoke out on the Middle East crisis, warning that any nation opening fire will have "neither the approval nor support" of France. Arab states have considered France a friend in the crisis although it has sold arms to Israel in the past.

"The worst thing which could happen would be the opening of hostilities," De Gaulle said in a Paris statement.

De Gaulle again called for the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France to try to solve the crisis—a call received coolly by the Russians although arousing interest in Washington and London.

Egypt showed no sign of backing down in the confrontation with Israel, which began early this month after its ally Syria charged the Israelis threatened an invasion.

Egypt threatened to close the Suez Canal to any nation that tries to break the blockade President Gamal Abdel Nasser has proclaimed in the Gulf of Aqaba.

At the north end of the gulf lies Elath, the Israeli port that imports most of the nation's oil. Israel has warned it will not wait indefinitely for the Western powers to work out a plan to nullify the blockade.

Premier Levi Eshkol Thursday night gave up the defense post and named the 52-year-old, one-eyed war hero and political ally of former Premier David Ben-Gurion.

The appointment was warmly welcomed in Israel, though opinion was divided whether it promised a challenge soon to the Egyptian forces threatening Israel's southern shipping route through the Gulf of Aqaba or the Arab legions massed on Israel's frontiers.

Ben-Gurion hailed Dayan's reentry into the military field as "a very important step."

"It will give the country a wise and courageous leadership," he said.

The semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al Ahram, Nasser's usual mouthpiece, claimed that the armed forces now control Israel and predicted that Premier Levhi Eshkol's government would be overthrown soon unless it takes military action against the Egyptian blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba.

Al Ahram warned that Egypt may shut off the Suez Canal to any nation trying to break the blockade it has imposed on the gulf between the Red Sea and Israel's southern port, Elath.

In a move to forestall any attempt by U.S. and British warships to break the blockade, Al Ahram said Cairo would regard such attempts as aggression and exercise its right to bar the aggressor's ships from the Suez Canal under the 1888 Treaty of Constantinople.

The paper said Nasser's government was drawing up a plan to meet "attempts by the United States and Britain to pressure and provoke Egypt."

Al Ahram also charged that passage of the U.S. aircraft carrier Intrepid through the Suez Canal Thursday "represented an American show of force even though the captain told canal authorities the ship was bound for the Indian Ocean."

The Intrepid, with 78 jet fighters aboard, steamed southeast through the Red Sea Thursday night. The U.S. Defense Department said she was bound for Vietnam.

U.S. leaders in Washington were reported still hopeful a way could be found out of the Middle East crisis without a test of force against Nasser's blockade of Israeli shipping.

Shafer Tax Plan Greeted 'Coolly'

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer's proposal for a deferred personal income tax met with a relatively cool reception today from both Republicans and Democrats alike.

Shafer proposed in a message to the General Assembly Thursday to balance his 1967-68 $1.861 billion budget with a $267 million tax package drawn without the immediate imposition of a personal income tax.

Republicans seemed gratified that the necessity of the income tax can be avoided this year, while Democrats stoutly insisted that Shafer would have to prove his revenue needs to them before they lent any votes for a tax program.

U.N. Council Deadlocked On Mideast

Next Session Called Off Until Saturday; Private Talks Fail

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council was reported tightly deadlocked on the Middle East crisis today, and the next council session was postponed until Saturday.

The council had been expected to vote today on two rival proposals for cooling off the tense situation. But informed sources said a day of private talks had failed to muster sufficient agreement on either a U.S. resolution or an Egyptian proposal, nor had an acceptable alternative been found.

Diplomats at U.N. headquarters said that if the council did agree on a resolution, it would probably be no more than an appeal to Israel and the Arab countries to exercise restraint.

Efforts to bring U.S. and Soviet representatives together for a private meeting failed. Western diplomats said one of the major difficulties had been the reluctance of the Russians to say what action, if any, they wanted the council to take.

The U.S. resolution appeared on the surface to be noncontroversial. It merely called on the nations concerned to heed Secretary-General U Thant's appeal for a breathing spell and urged diplomatic efforts to reach "unreasonable, peaceful and just solutions."

Its introduction, however, quoted the secretary-general's appeal which asked specifically that the parties "forego belligerence"—a phrase interpreted by U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg to include the Egyptian blockade of Israeli shipping in the Gulf of Aqaba.

Goldberg's interpretation reportedly made the U.S. resolution unacceptable to the Arabs and therefore to the Soviet Union.

The Egyptian resolution, sponsored by India as a council member, was said by diplomats to be doomed by references to Israel's alleged responsibility for the present deterioration in the Middle East situation.

65 Will Get Aid In Dollars Drive

Sixty - five students from seven area school districts will receive approximately $24,000 in aid, according to an announcement of the Awards Committee of the Citizens Scholarship Foundation.

The funds will come from cash received, pledges made and additional funds expected to be received by the Dollars for Scholars Foundation.

The committee pointed out that last year 87 students received a total of $27,500.

SAIGON (AP) — A task force of South Vietnamese paratroopers and infantry with thunderous air and artillery support chopped up a crack Communist battalion just south of the demilitarized zone today and killed at least 150 of the enemy, the Vietnamese Command announced.

A few miles to the west U.S. Marines were calling in air and artillery against a bunkered Communist ridgeline where dug-in North Vietnamese regulars killed 13 Marines and wounded 63 on Thursday.

The fighting raged a few miles below the 17th parallel dividing Vietnam, an area where the Communists have shown every willingness to feed in fresh troops for a growing war of attrition.

The 5,000-man South Vietnamese task force of paratroopers, infantry and armored vehicles ran into the crack Viet Cong 708th Mobile Battalion within five miles of the U.S. Marine base at Dong Ha.

The South Vietnamese jumped off on a widespread sweep at dawn and within hours hit the guerrilla battalion of about 500 men in a coastal area of sand dunes, low hills and brush where it has long operated. The battle northeast of Quang Tri City was the third in the area in the past two weeks.

To the west, the Marines were attempting to dislodge the North Vietnamese from a low ridgeline that gives them observation of Con Thien and Camp Carrol, two bunkered Marine outposts just below the demilitarized zone.

In this area where sawgrass grows five feet high, the Marines hit a strong Communist force near noon Thursday and battled them until sundown, running into well prepared bunkers and trenches.

Inching forward since then, the Marines directed a hail of artillery and jet strikes on the Red fortifications.

There was no report yet of enemy casualties in the continuing battle.

Scattered actions and Red mortar fire were reported all along the area below the zone, an area shielding the five politically shaky provinces of northern South Vietnam. Sporadic fighting also was reported throughout the five provinces, where Communist infiltration efforts have concentrated for months.

In the southernmost — Quang Ngai — U.S. Army troops sent last month to relieve pressure on the Marines pursued a Red force dislodged from a mile-long bunker complex by naval gunfire Thursday. A spokesman said that no details had been received on what was found in the bunkered fortress uncovered by the fiery naval rocket barrage.

Death Ruled County's 12th Road Fatality

County's 1967 Traffic Toll
12 KILLED
This date in 1966—11 killed!
NO NEED FOR SPEED

A ruling by the Allegheny County coroner at Pittsburgh has added another traffic fatality to Columbiana County's toll for 1967.

Dr. William Hunt has ruled Joseph Hryckowian, 45, of Baden, injured in an April car - truck collision just north of East Liverpool, died as a result of the mishap.

Hryckowian died Sunday at Dixmont State Hospital and physicians there attributed the death to a combination of pneumonia, a coronary condition and brain damage.

He was driver of a car which hit the rear of a tractor-trailer rig on Route 30, and was subsequently treated for head injuries at hospitals here and at Pittsburgh, and was later transferred to the state hospital.

Dr. Hunt said the injuries suffered in the mishap resulted in his death Sunday.

Columbiana County now has 12 traffic deaths, compared with 11 at this time last year.

Road Safety Bill OK'd By Ohio's House

Reflectorized Auto Tag Bill Approved; May Increase Fees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An omnibus highway safety bill cleared the Ohio House intact Thursday and all but overshadowed a Senate measure that figures to bring higher fees for auto license tags.

The Senate bill, passed by a vote of 20-12, would require reflectorized license plates after January 1969 but in its present form would boost manufacturing costs by $2 million and pass the cost on to local governments.

Sen. Robert E. Stockdale R-31 Portage, chairman of the Senate Committee on Urban and Highway Affairs, coupled his support of the measure with a prediction that higher license fees to make up the difference "are in the cards."

"Ohio has one of the lowest license fees in the nation and in my opinion, they will have to be increased to meet the cost of this legislation and also to implement some of the programs in the omnibus highway safety bill," the former Portage County sheriff said.

Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray R-3 Miami led the floor fight against the bill on grounds that its value as a safety factor was overweighed by the financial burden it would place on already beleaguered local governments.

He pointed out that additional manufacturing costs estimated at 30-40 cents for a set of plates could cost several major counties many thousands of dollars. He said Cuyahoga stands to lose $300,000 a year, Hamilton $151,000, and Franklin $145,000.

The loss would come in reductions in highway funds returned to political subdivisions from license fee collections. "This is not a time for us to stand on the floor of this Senate and reduce the dollars available to local governments," Gray argued.

Appeal Carried To State Court

LISBON — Ramon Whinery who operates Whinery's Landing at Guilford Lake is appealing to the State Supreme Court from a decision of the Seventh District Court of Appeals.

The Appellate Court last December reversed a Common Pleas Court judgment in favor of Whinery, the defendant in a $25,000 injury suit filed by Mrs. Erma J. Holdshue of East Liverpool. The court remanded the case for a new trial.

At the first trial May 5, 1965, Judge Joel H. Sharp sustained the defendant's motion for a directed verdict on completion of the plaintiff's opening statement.

Mrs. Holdshue's petition relates that a parked car, accidentally knocked out of gear by a child, ran down a hillside into the picnic area and struck her. The accident occurred July 15, 1962. She claims Whinery was negligent in not providing a safe parking area.

Awards Are Planned At Picnic On Sunday

A picnic will be held beginning at 10 a. m. Sunday at Little Roc Lake on Route 267 near Wellsville under auspices of Chapter 6 of the United Citizens Band Radio Association.

Supreme Court Rejects Appeal

LISBON — The Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday dismissed the appeal of Erwin Brown, former Irondale resident, serving a life sentence for a double murder.

"No substantial constitutional question is involved," the court ruled in denying Brown's request for release. He claimed his constitutional rights were abridged.

A Common Pleas Court jury convicted Brown April 12, 1947, for shooting his wife, Beulah Brown, and Brade Fetty, Dec. 4, 1946, in a house on Short Alley, East Liverpool. The jury recommended mercy. Brown is in Ohio State Penitentiary.

Jail Term And Fines Set In Traffic Case

EAST PALESTINE—A Chester man was sentenced to a year in jail and handed $800 in fines Thursday on two charges during a hearing in Eastern County Court.

Glenn E. Wilson was given $400 fines and six-month jail terms on charges of having no operator's permit and driving while intoxicated. Judge D. Barry Dickson told Wilson both sentences are subject to reconsideration at a later time.

Four Youths Given Penalties For Theft Of Barge Lanterns

Four East Liverpool youths admitted in Juvenile Court at Lisbon Thursday that they took or received lanterns taken from barges at the S-H Bell Co. dock on the Ohio River in Little England here.

Judge Louis Tobin ordered each to pay $10 toward damages sustained by the company, placed them on a 9 p. m. curfew for three weeks and ordered them to stay way from the dock and barges for the next two years.

The youths, 15 to 17, denied cutting 1¼-inch nylon rope used to secure the barges, a second complaint filed by James Miller, Juvenile Court probation officer. The affidavit said the offenses occurred on or about April 30.

One boy said he received one of the laterns "but the date is wrong — it was sometine in 1966."

Judge Tobin told the boys the loosening of hawsers endangers river traffic and that "fooling around on the barges is an easy way to get killed."

Patrolman S. E. Hayes of East Liverpool investigated the thefts a month ago and cited six youths. One chose to retain a lawyer yesterday and the court continued his hearing until July 13 at 1 p.m. The sixth did not appear and the court ordered that he be picked up on sight.

A couple of the youths said they did not take the rope or cut it. "We found it on the ground and used it to make a Tarzan swing," they said.

The hearing marked the first use of a new printed form titled "Notice of legal rights and privileges," which from now on will be stapled to the complaint sheet. The complaint is served on the parent or parents of the juvenile before the hearing. The notice reads:

"The purpose of this notice is to emphasize the fact that a complaint has been filed against (child's name) and to inform you that under the law you have certain specific rights and privileges. You may employ an attorney at law to represent you and to advise you about the law and the presentation of the case, or you may come alone. You may bring witnesses with you, or, upon your request, the court will subpoena them for you. Wherever possible under the law, it is this court's purpose to correct and to rehabilitate rather than to punish and the court welcomes assistance in the accomplishment of this purpose."

Prior to yesterday's hearing, Judge Tobin explained the notice and gave the parents a chance to talk with the boys. All except one decided to proceed without counsel.

Discussion Continues On Regulations

LISBON — Proposed subdivision regulations and a rural house numbering plan were discussed during the Regional Planning Commission meeting Thursday night at the Courthouse.

Floyd Lower of Lisbon, president, said the county commissioners and the RPC's subdivision regulations committee readed by Richard Sanford of East Liverpool will meet to work out changes to satisfy certain objections.

A formal public hearing on the regulations was held May 4 in the county commissioners' office, but the board could not agree to adopt them then, nor again May 25 when they had promised a decision.

Willard Yengling and John Dienes of the Damascus Ruritan Club attended last night and spoke on behalf of the proposed house numbering plan for the county. Lower said the plan will be discussed again.

Harold D. Reed of Brandon Dr., Wellsville, attended for the first time. County commissioners appointed him to the RPC Monday.

The next meeting will be July 18. The executive committee will meet June 20.

The White House did not have a bathtub until 1891.

Supreme Court Rejects Appeal

LISBON — The Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday dismissed the appeal of Erwin Brown, former Irondale resident, serving a life sentence for a double murder.

"No substantial constitutional question is involved," the court ruled in denying Brown's request for release. He claimed his constitutional rights were abridged.

A Common Pleas Court jury convicted Brown April 12, 1947, for shooting his wife, Beulah Brown, and Brade Fetty, Dec. 4, 1946, in a house on Short Alley, East Liverpool. The jury recommended mercy. Brown is in Ohio State Penitentiary.

Jail Term And Fines Set In Traffic Case

EAST PALESTINE—A Chester man was sentenced to a year in jail and handed $800 in fines Thursday on two charges during a hearing in Eastern County Court.

Glenn E. Wilson was given $400 fines and six-month jail terms on charges of having no operator's permit and driving while intoxicated. Judge D. Barry Dickson told Wilson both sentences are subject to reconsideration at a later time.

Four Youths Given Penalties For Theft Of Barge Lanterns

Four East Liverpool youths admitted in Juvenile Court at Lisbon Thursday that they took or received lanterns taken from barges at the S-H Bell Co. dock on the Ohio River in Little England here.

Judge Louis Tobin ordered each to pay $10 toward damages sustained by the company, placed them on a 9 p. m. curfew for three weeks and ordered them to stay way from the dock and barges for the next two years.

The youths, 15 to 17, denied cutting 1¼-inch nylon rope used to secure the barges, a second complaint filed by James Miller, Juvenile Court probation officer. The affidavit said the offenses occurred on or about April 30.

One boy said he received one of the laterns "but the date is wrong — it was sometine in 1966."

Judge Tobin told the boys the loosening of hawsers endangers river traffic and that "fooling around on the barges is an easy way to get killed."

Patrolman S. E. Hayes of East Liverpool investigated the thefts a month ago and cited six youths. One chose to retain a lawyer yesterday and the court continued his hearing until July 13 at 1 p.m. The sixth did not appear and the court ordered that he be picked up on sight.

A couple of the youths said they did not take the rope or cut it. "We found it on the ground and used it to make a Tarzan swing," they said.

The hearing marked the first use of a new printed form titled "Notice of legal rights and privileges," which from now on will be stapled to the complaint sheet. The complaint is served on the parent or parents of the juvenile before the hearing. The notice reads:

"The purpose of this notice is to emphasize the fact that a complaint has been filed against (child's name) and to inform you that under the law you have certain specific rights and privileges. You may employ an attorney at law to represent you and to advise you about the law and the presentation of the case, or you may come alone. You may bring witnesses with you, or, upon your request, the court will subpoena them for you. Wherever possible under the law, it is this court's purpose to correct and to rehabilitate rather than to punish and the court welcomes assistance in the accomplishment of this purpose."

Prior to yesterday's hearing, Judge Tobin explained the notice and gave the parents a chance to talk with the boys. All except one decided to proceed without counsel.

Discussion Continues On Regulations

LISBON — Proposed subdivision regulations and a rural house numbering plan were discussed during the Regional Planning Commission meeting Thursday night at the Courthouse.

Floyd Lower of Lisbon, president, said the county commissioners and the RPC's subdivision regulations committee readed by Richard Sanford of East Liverpool will meet to work out changes to satisfy certain objections.

A formal public hearing on the regulations was held May 4 in the county commissioners' office, but the board could not agree to adopt them then, nor again May 25 when they had promised a decision.

Willard Yengling and John Dienes of the Damascus Puritan Club attended last night and spoke on behalf of the proposed house numbering plan for the county. Lower said the plan will be discussed again.

Harold D. Reed of Brandon Dr., Wellsville, attended for the first time. County commissioners appointed him to the RPC Monday.

The next meeting will be July 18. The executive committee will meet June 20.

The White House did not have a bathtub until 1891.

New York's Lottery Dilemma

The roadblock to New York state's lottery-a-month venture is federal policy against giving publicity to lotteries by mail or the electronic media.

The mail prohibition affects newspapers and magazines.

The electronic media are radio and television.

New York legalists are searching their clients' souls for them on this ticklish issue. It is ticklish because no one wants to run afoul of federal law needlessly. Yet, the success of the New York lottery will turn on ability to inform the public about it.

Federal law does not prohibit lotteries. Lotteries are not illegal under federal law. All that's illegal is to disseminate information about them through U.S. mails — a provision dating back to 1890 after lotteries had been turned into a national scandal by abuses of unscrupulous private promoters.

This federal law has been made obsolete by the growing popularity of government lotteries. A substantial change has taken place in the public attitude toward gambling as public expenses multiply and revolts of real estate taxpayers become commonplace. Twenty-four states sanction pari-mutuel race track betting.

New York State anticipates income of as much as a million dollars a day from its state lottery — income that leaves no taxpayer scars. But to attain it, the New York lottery must have publicity.

As long as federal policy is against dissemination of lottery publicity, states that already have instituted lotteries and states studying this means of raising public funds cannot be sure where they stand.

The federal government has them trapped between their need for whatever money is left after Washington skims off the revenue cream and a law passed more than three-quarters of a century ago to curb a specific abuse that no longer exists.

No one wants to legalize private lotteries willy-nilly. But neither does anyone want to handicap states needlessly in their search for revenue.

A True Pressman

The heart of any newspaper is its press, the simple or complex machine where type and ink combine to bring the community on paper the news of the day, the notices of the market.

For 48 years, Clifford Smith, press foreman of The Review, has been a caretaker, guardian and director of mechanical publication of this newspaper.

With his retirement this week, Cliff earns a respectful salute from those of his craft and others in the newspaper field. Through whatever adversity, he and his crew put the paper out in the tradition common to the true pressmen.

Building A Snare For Doves

A move to place the recall of Idaho's Sen. Frank Church on the November ballot could backlash against its originators.

California interests are supplying money and some of the manpower in the drive against Idaho's senior senator in hope of starting other recall campaigns against dove senators.

A petition with 25,000 signatures is needed to get the issue on the ballot in Idaho. Recall supporters may be able to find some discontents, some uninformed voters and some fence riders to sign the petition. Whether or not they can find 25,000 remains to be seen.

On the other hand, many Idaho residents are going to resent outsiders trying to tell them who should or should not be their state senator. These residents will tell the Californians to go work on their own problems and let Idaho alone.

Then to make their point perfectly clear, they could re-elect Sen. Church when his term expires in 1969.

Other considerations will enter into the controversy over recall. There will be discussion over the purpose of recall; whether or not a man should be chastised for a dissenting opinion or whether a senator is out of order for being against a view held by his government.

But the deciding factor could be resentment over the meddling of people from California into the affairs sovereign to the state of Idaho.

There is another backlash possibility that could knock a real hole in the recall campaign.

If 25,000 petition signers were found and the issue placed on the ballot, then given a resounding licking, we probably wouldn't hear much else about recall of other doves.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: I was not invited to make a commencement address this year.

But I keep one ready, in case I ever am invited, though I never have been. I am like the fellow in the insane asylum who went naked, except for a hat, because he said nobody ever came to see him. "Then why do you wear a hat?" he was asked. "Somebody might come to see me," he explained.

Herewith my 1967 commencement address:

Big deal, boys and girls. Every graduating class thinks it's a big deal.

This is because everybody needs to believe there's something special about him — some particular reason for him to exist. And of course there always is something special — some particular reason.

I am going to tell you what it is. It won't take long. This is going to be the shortest commencement speech ever made.

If you did not exist at this instant in the eternal flight of time, we fading flowers would have no grandchildren to fuss over and spoil. That was and still is the most terrifying thing about the prospect of atomic destruction — the possibility it might prevent human reproduction.

The mass killing of millions with one gargantuan poof isn't bad, because we're all going to die sometime anyway. But the possible sterilization of the whole human race — no more babies, no more youth, no more graduating classes — is too grim to think about.

That's why you are important. You are no better or worse than your predecessors.. You are just run-of-the-mill kids, but we need you.

Go right on believing you are something special, because this will give you an identity you couldn't get any other way — and you will need it. Without identity, you might as well be a guppy. Or a weenie. Or a dandelion.

But bear in mind while you are achieving identity that your main function is a link in the lengthening chain of human survival. Think of yourselves as part of a relay team passing along the baton from one generation to another.

Be neither ashamed nor exalted. It is enough just to know you are part of a process that has been going on longer than the memory of man runneth to the contrary and will be going on until the end of time.

That should make you feel important — make you feel wanted. If it doesn't, console yourselves with the thought you are brighter, more lost, less lost, wickeder, less wicked, or something else.

You aren't of course. You're just an ordinary run of kids ranging from bad, through medium to good.

You will have all the impact on civilization of a mosquito power-driving a custard pie with meringue topping.

All I can tell you in that regard is, young friends, you don't want to knock it. It's hilarious. Thanks for listening. And now I must go home and get rid of this meringue.

Odd Facts

The St. Lawrence River is the largest waterway in Canada, and one of the largest rivers in the world. Its wide, deep course was the first highway of the explorers, fur traders and colonists who came to Canada in early days. Some authorities claim that the St. Lawrence is second only to the Amazon River in totaling the vast amount of water that it pours into the ocean every day. The river drains an approximate area of more than 500,000 square miles, including the Great Lakes and the southeastern part of Canada.

Marie Curie (1867-1934) was a winner of Nobel Prizes in both physics and chemistry. In 1903 she was awarded the prize in physics along with her husband, Pierre, for their study of radiation. And in 1911 she received an award in chemistry for her discovery of elements radium and polonium.

It's Time They Shut Up!

By Merriman Smith

Merriman Smith delivered this speech at the annual breakfast meeting of United Press International editors and publishers in New York City April 24. Many listeners suggested publication of the text, to reach a wider audience. Mr. Smith has been a White House correspondent since 1941 and is dean of the group whose members learn to know intimately the chief executives of the United States.

President Johnson these days is the object of some of the worst vilification — even obscenity — that I've seen or heard in more than 25 years on the White House assignment.

When I was in New Orleans not long ago looking into the so-called Kennedy assassination plot, I saw for sale in various stores auto license plates vividly associating the President with barnyard filth.

Driving down the southeastern coast last winter, I saw for sale in roadside stands allegedly-clever but actually quite dirty sayings about the President, his wife and their two daughters. These were lapel buttons.

At the so-called peace demonstration in New York's Central Park the other day, there were grown men carrying signs which openly and plainly challenged the President's normalcy — mentally and sexually. There were the same sort of senseless placards about Dean Rusk.

Furthermore, some of the more active demonstrators would have us believe in signs and songs that Johnson and McNamara are deliberatly burning Asian babies with napalm.

There have been buttons and printed placards around the country saying, "Lee Harvey Oswald, where are you now?"

Also, there are in print pamphlets, books, newspapers of a sort and even recorded tapes alleging that Johnson engineered the death of President Kennedy.

THIS IS NOT enlightened social change, or legitimate dissent or revolution. It is anarchy born of a highly permissive atmosphere in this country; a strangely paradoxical atmosphere in which freedom, at times, seems to be working against the very things for which freedom supposedly stands.

We live with certain verities which a million kookie men with bananas around their necks cannot change — which Martin Luther King and Stokely Carmichael cannot change — which Doctor Spock can't do very much about.

One of these facts is that President Johnson, Secretary Rusk and Secretary McNamara cannot throw up their hands in dismay and say to Doctors King and Spock, "Here, take over, you run things for a while."

Neither can General Westmoreland hand over his command to Dick Gregory or Richard Goodwin.

Like it or not, Johnson, Rusk, McNamara and company are piloting an enormous ship with a human cargo of nearly 200 million Americans, to say nothing of many millions in other lands depending on us for guidance, protection and a certain amount of assistance.

It is open to legitimate public debate whether these leaders are embarked on a wrong course, but under our system they cannot be dumped overboard and furthermore, they're running things, at least until January, 1969.

THUS IT WOULD seem only natural to ask what these rather open merchants of fifth and utterly unfounded innuendo hope to accomplish. Run Johnson out of office? Not a chance.

Are they starting a political tear-down aimed at 1968? This is most unlikely. We're not talking here about the political opposition of Republican versus Democrat. This is something different, slimy, and at times, irrational.

So, it would seem that vicious personal attacks on government leaders could have only one motivation that would make any sense at all — and that is to tear down public confidence in the establishment — and by establishment, I mean authority on almost any level.

If successful, this then could lead us to a sort of rudderless society of irresponibility to the group, amorality for the further erosion of the family unit, and finally the confusion of anarchy.

I paint a picture which undoubtedly seems extreme to some of you, but I do so to show something of what a president must view when he comes to work every day — and by every day, I mean seven days a week.

Lyndon Johnson knows that much of the venom directed against him and members of his government is symptomatic of a natural, justified concern about the war, symptomatic of inequities long overdue in their correction in such a lush society as ours, and symptomatic of the futility which haunts a great many of our young people in a thermonuclear age.

WE SOMETIMES forget, however, that leaders of a government are human; that even the toughest hides thickened by years of political abrasion can be punctured.

President Johnson has been around politics long enough to have the hide of a walrus, but he has chinks all through this armor. Sen. Fulbright can denounce him in the Senate and Johnson may do nothing more than shrug, but he can boil up a cow country anger over a story that he bought some red, white and blue boots.

Taking his high degree, even a painful degree of sensitivity into consideration, I am amazed at the punishment he can take without heading for the ranch and locking the gate.

Some of this he brings upon himself by paying far too much attention to what is said, written and broadcast about him and those around him.

He contributes to his own credibility gap by an almost eccentric insistence on not disclosing his plans until the last possible moment. It is no myth that he get sore when he is scooped on his own stories.

Any politician who make as many public statements as Mr. Johnson does is bound to contradict himself on occasion, and when this is brought to public attention, his reaction has all the charm of a bull in an electric fence.

The fact that Johnson's image — his standing with a great many of his fellow countrymen — is in poor shape is, I think, moot. He is trying to do something about it by being a little less large and over-powering.

BUT THERE ARE certain things he cannot lick. One of these is Texas. Because of the Kennedy assaasination in Dallas, the wild shooting spree of that crazy man at the University of Texas, the fact that the Chicago killer of those eight nurses came from Texas— these things have created in the minds of many Americans an ugly, violent image of Texas and anything having to do with the state.

This attitude, of course, ignores the fact that violence takes place every hour in every state of the country; that millions of us stay up late every night watching murder shows on TV.

Because Texas has been connected with the biggest crime of this century; because the killing of Kennedy was attributed to an atmosphere of political hatred in the state and because the state, after all, is southern, then Johnson must be hung with what amounts to three nooses.

The Black Power Negroes refuse to believe any man — any white man — with a Southern accent.

The liberals look down their noses at almost anybody with a drawl.

And the intellectuals sniff at the product of a teachers college in San Marcos, Texas.

My point here is that no section of the country has a monopoly on crime and unbridled hatred. Not many of the people who demonstrated against Johnson in Central Park in daylight ten days ago would dare walk through that same park at night.

HATE AND vilification warp judgment just as heat buckles steel beams. If you tear down confidence in established authority, then those in public office blame a lot of this on the newspapers for reporting it. They say we are not doing enough reporting in-depth.

Then when we do burrow beneath the government's bright public face of fresh handouts and self-serving background conferences not for attribution, they yell at us again for distorting their purpose or trying to second-guess Dean Rusk.

So, what do we have? An effort to destroy confidence in government, plus an effort to pull down confidence in the press. Then, if both efforts are successful, whom do you believe — Doctor Spock?

Believe me, this is the time for the American public to take some responsibility for its own image and stop blaming everything on either Lyndon Johnson or Drew Pearson.

Mr. Johnson . . . in fact, no President deserves the indignities being heaped upon him these days in the name of peace or civil rights.

All of us should be able to see the situation with more clarity when we meet again next year. But meantime, L.B.J. is in for much more punishment at hands of the name callers unless the squares who raise kids, mow their lawns, and pay their taxes decide to involve themselves by getting off their patios and telling the dirty-mouths to shut the hell up.

Going Up?

By David Lawrence

Tax Of Tax Boost Increases

If President Johnson requests and Congress grants a tax increase effective in October or January, it will be the first time since 1951 that such a step will have been taken.

This could mean that in the election year 1968 whatever resentments are usually produced by a tax increase will be felt at the polls. The public may question whether a tax increase was necessary and whether the same objective couldn't have been attained by cutting federal expenditures.

It's an open secret that President Johnson dislikes the idea of a tax increase, but he has been told by his advisers that it is becoming imperative. They point out that, because of the Vietnam War and nonmilitary expenditures, the Treasury may face a deficit of $27 billion or thereabouts in the fiscal year that will begin July 1, 1968.

A tax increase could yield $5 billion of additional revenue, but the government would still be in the red by an amount unparalleled except during World War II.

When the last tax increase was enacted in 1951, the Korean War was absorbing a big part of federal funds. It is significant that, in the presidential election the following year, the Democratic administration was defeated.

MANY PEOPLE think Gen. Eisenhower's popularity was the cause of the Republican victory in 1952, but there is plenty of evidence that discontent and dissatisfaction over increased taxes, economic conditions and the Korean war change administrations.

Right now, the controversy over raising the tax rates is related directly to the need for more revenue to help offset the expenses of the Vietnam War.

Some of the economic advisers who are advocating a tax increase really are concerned about inflation and a possible rise in interest rates which could develop into a tight-money situation. Interest rates are fluctuating at present because of uncertainty over future economic trends.

It is being assumed that a tax increase will have an anti-inflationary effect. It is conceivable, on the other hand, that a tax increase — which would mean less "take home" pay — will stimulate demands for higher wages to offset the losses in take-home pay.

Inflation and higher tax rates have produced a steady reduction in the purchasing power of individual income. A person with a yearly income of $3,000 18 years ago now would have to earn $4,447 in order to get the equivalent in purchasing power today.

After paying income and Social Security taxes of $378, he would suffer a loss of $1,132 in dollars in purchasing power.

A small businessman who had a gross income of $100,000 18 years ago finds that the same sum at present means $25,000 less in purpurchasing power.

A rise in prices, which is usually related to an increase in wage costs, produces economic conditions which are not cured by higher taxes.

ADMINISTRATION officials would like to see interest rates kept down and are asuming a tax increase would do the job. But there are skeptics who say that government spending must be curtailed if there is to be an effective restraint placed upon the inflationary movement of today.

If the administration cuts $5 billion from its nonmilitary program, on the other hand, this might evoke some adverse criticism in certain areas of the country which are affected.

The stabilizing effect on the economy generally, however, would probably more than offset any such disadvantages politically.

The objective of the Johnson administration from a political standpoint is to get some kind of economic stability, at least for 1968.

With a tax increase and consequent demand for higher wages, the chances of a political defeat at the polls would grow. It would seem, moreover, that a mere six per cent surcharge in taxes is by no means assured.

For if the war in Vietnam is really expanded and the Middle East requires additional military outlays by the United States, the tax rise might be even bigger.

Wage-price controls would also be given serious consideration.

A substantial change has taken place in the public attitude toward gambling as public expenses multiply and revolts of real estate taxpayers become commonplace. Twenty-four states sanction pari-mutuel race track betting.

New York State anticipates income of as much as a million dollars a day from its state lottery — income that leaves no taxpayer scars. But to attain it, the New York lottery must have publicity.

As long as federal policy is against dissemination of lottery publicity, states that already have instituted lotteries and states studying this means of raising public funds cannot be sure where they stand.

The federal government has them trapped between their need for whatever money is left after Washington skims off the revenue cream and a law passed more than three-quarters of a century ago to curb a specific abuse that no longer exists.

No one wants to legalize private lotteries willy-nilly. But neither does anyone want to handicap states needlessly in their search for revenue.

A True Pressman

The heart of any newspaper is its press, the simple or complex machine where type and ink combine to bring the community on paper the news of the day, the notices of the market.

For 48 years, Clifford Smith, press foreman of The Review, has been a caretaker, guardian and director of mechanical publication of this newspaper.

With his retirement this week, Cliff earns a respectful salute from those of his craft and others in the newspaper field. Through whatever adversity, he and his crew put the paper out in the tradition common to the true pressmen.

Building A Snare For Doves

A move to place the recall of Idaho's Sen. Frank Church on the November ballot could backlash against its originators.

California interests are supplying money and some of the manpower in the drive against Idaho's senior senator in hope of starting other recall campaigns against dove senators.

A petition with 25,000 signatures is needed to get the issue on the ballot in Idaho. Recall supporters may be able to find some discontents, some uninformed voters and some fence riders to sign the petition. Whether or not they can find 25,000 remains to be seen.

On the other hand, many Idaho residents are going to resent outsiders trying to tell them who should or should not be their state senator. These residents will tell the Californians to go work on their own problems and let Idaho alone.

Then to make their point perfectly clear, they could re-elect Sen. Church when his term expires in 1969.

Other considerations will enter into the controversy over recall. There will be discussion over the purpose of recall; whether or not a man should be chastised for a dissenting opinion or whether a senator is out of order for being against a view held by his government.

But the deciding factor could be resentment over the meddling of people from California into the affairs sovereign to the state of Idaho.

There is another backlash possibility that could knock a real hole in the recall campaign.

If 25,000 petition signers were found and the issue placed on the ballot, then given a resounding licking, we probably wouldn't hear much else about recall of other doves.

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: I was not invited to make a commencement address this year.

But I keep one ready, in case I ever am invited, though I never have been. I am like the fellow in the insane asylum who went naked, except for a hat, because he said nobody ever came to see him. "Then why do you wear a hat?" he was asked. "Somebody might come to see me," he explained.

Herewith my 1967 commencement address:

Big deal, boys and girls. Every graduating class thinks it's a big deal.

This is because everybody needs to believe there's something special about him — some particular reason for him to exist. And of course there always is something special — some particular reason.

I am going to tell you what it is. It won't take long. This is going to be the shortest commencement speech ever made.

If you did not exist at this instant in the eternal flight of time, we fading flowers would have no grandchildren to fuss over and spoil. That was and still is the most terrifying thing about the prospect of atomic destruction — the possibility it might prevent human reproduction.

The mass killing of millions with one gargantuan poof isn't bad, because we're all going to die sometime anyway. But the possible sterilization of the whole human race — no more babies, no more youth, no more graduating classes — is too grim to think about.

That's why you are important. You are no better or worse than your predecessors. You are just run-of-the-mill kids, but we need you.

Go right on believing you are something special, because this will give you an identity you couldn't get any other way — and you will need it. Without identity, you might as well be a guppy. Or a weenie. Or a dandelion.

But bear in mind while you are achieving identity that your main function is a link in the lengthening chain of human survival. Think of yourselves as part of a relay team passing along the baton from one generation to another.

Be neither ashamed nor exalted. It is enough just to know you are part of a process that has been going on longer than the memory of man runneth to the contrary and will be going on until the end of time.

That should make you feel important — make you feel wanted. If it doesn't, console yourselves with the thought you are brighter, more lost, less lost, wickeder, less wicked, or something else.

You aren't of course. You're just an ordinary run of kids ranging from bad, through medium to good.

You will have all the impact on civilization of a mosquito power-driving a custard pie with meringue topping.

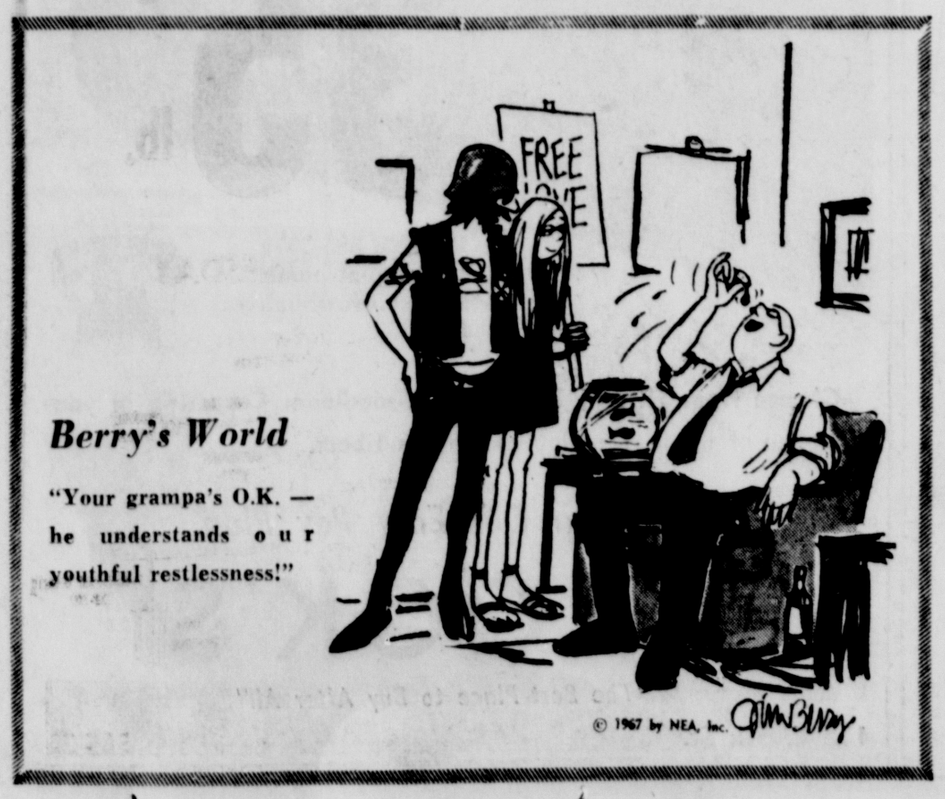

All I can tell you in that regard is, young friends, you don't want to knock it. It's hilarious. Thanks for listening. And now I must go home and get rid of this meringue.

Odd Facts

The St. Lawrence River is the largest waterway in Canada, and one of the largest rivers in the world. Its wide, deep course was the first highway of the explorers, fur traders and colonists who came to Canada in early days. Some authorities claim that the St. Lawrence is second only to the Amazon River in totaling the vast amount of water that it pours into the ocean every day. The river drains an approximate area of more than 500,000 square miles, including the Great Lakes and the southeastern part of Canada.

Marie Curie (1867-1934) was a winner of Nobel Prizes in both physics and chemistry. In 1903 she was awarded the prize in physics along with her husband, Pierre, for their study of radiation. And in 1911 she received an award in chemistry for her discovery of elements radium and polonium.

It's Time They Shut Up!

By Merriman Smith

Merriman Smith delivered this speech at the annual breakfast meeting of United Press International editors and publishers in New York City April 24. Many listeners suggested publication of the text, to reach a wider audience. Mr. Smith has been a White House correspondent since 1941 and is dean of the group whose members learn to know intimately the chief executives of the United States.

President Johnson these days is the object of some of the worst vilification — even obscenity — that I've seen or heard in more than 25 years on the White House assignment.

When I was in New Orleans not long ago looking into the so-called Kennedy assassination plot, I saw for sale in various stores auto license plates vividly associating the President with barnyard filth.

Driving down the southeastern coast last winter, I saw for sale in roadside stands allegedly-clever but actually quite dirty sayings about the President, his wife and their two daughters. These were lapel buttons.

At the so-called peace demonstration in New York's Central Park the other day, there were grown men carrying signs which openly and plainly challenged the President's normalcy — mentally and sexually. There were the same sort of senseless placards about Dean Rusk.

Furthermore, some of the more active demonstrators would have us believe in signs and songs that Johnson and McNamara are deliberatly burning Asian babies with napalm.

There have been buttons and printed placards around the country saying, "Lee Harvey Oswald, where are you now?"

Also, there are in print pamphlets, books, newspapers of a sort and even recorded tapes alleging that Johnson engineered the death of President Kennedy.

THIS IS NOT enlightened social change, or legitimate dissent or revolution. It is anarchy born of a highly permissive atmosphere in this country; a strangely paradoxical atmosphere in which freedom, at times, seems to be working against the very things for which freedom supposedly stands.

We live with certain verities which a million kookie men with bananas around their necks cannot change — which Martin Luther King and Stokely Carmichael cannot change — which Doctor Spock can't do very much about.

One of these facts is that President Johnson, Secretary Rusk and Secretary McNamara cannot throw up their hands in dismay and say to Doctors King and Spock, "Here, take over, you run things for a while."

Neither can General Westmoreland hand over his command to Dick Gregory or Richard Goodwin.

Like it or not, Johnson, Rusk, McNamara and company are piloting an enormous ship with a human cargo of nearly 200 million Americans, to say nothing of many millions in other lands depending on us for guidance, protection and a certain amount of assistance.

It is open to legitimate public debate whether these leaders are embarked on a wrong course, but under our system they cannot be dumped overboard and furthermore, they're running things, at least until January, 1969.

THUS IT WOULD seem only natural to ask what these rather open merchants of fifth and utterly unfounded innuendo hope to accomplish. Run Johnson out of office? Not a chance.

Are they starting a political tear-down aimed at 1968? This is most unlikely. We're not talking here about the political opposition of Republican versus Democrat. This is something different, slimy, and at times, irrational.

So, it would seem that vicious personal attacks on government leaders could have only one motivation that would make any sense at all — and that is to tear down public confidence in the establishment — and by establishment, I mean authority on almost any level.

If successful, this then could lead us to a sort of rudderless society of irresponibility to the group, amorality for the further erosion of the family unit, and finally the confusion of anarchy.

I paint a picture which undoubtedly seems extreme to some of you, but I do so to show something of what a president must view when he comes to work every day — and by every day, I mean seven days a week.

Lyndon Johnson knows that much of the venom directed against him and members of his government is symptomatic of a natural, justified concern about the war, symptomatic of inequities long overdue in their correction in such a lush society as ours, and symptomatic of the futility which haunts a great many of our young people in a thermonuclear age.

WE SOMETIMES forget, however, that leaders of a government are human; that even the toughest hides thickened by years of political abrasion can be punctured.

President Johnson has been around politics long enough to have the hide of a walrus, but he has chinks all through this armor. Sen. Fulbright can denounce him in the Senate and Johnson may do nothing more than shrug, but he can boil up a cow country anger over a story that he bought some red, white and blue boots.

Taking his high degree, even a painful degree of sensitivity into consideration, I am amazed at the punishment he can take without heading for the ranch and locking the gate.

Some of this he brings upon himself by paying far too much attention to what is said, written and broadcast about him and those around him.

He contributes to his own credibility gap by an almost eccentric insistence on not disclosing his plans until the last possible moment. It is no myth that he get sore when he is scooped on his own stories.

Any politician who make as many public statements as Mr. Johnson does is bound to contradict himself on occasion, and when this is brought to public attention, his reaction has all the charm of a bull in an electric fence.

The fact that Johnson's image — his standing with a great many of his fellow countrymen — is in poor shape is, I think, moot. He is trying to do something about it by being a little less large and over-powering.

BUT THERE ARE certain things he cannot lick. One of these is Texas. Because of the Kennedy assaasination in Dallas, the wild shooting spree of that crazy man at the University of Texas, the fact that the Chicago killer of those eight nurses came from Texas— these things have created in the minds of many Americans an ugly, violent image of Texas and anything having to do with the state.

This attitude, of course, ignores the fact that violence takes place every hour in every state of the country; that millions of us stay up late every night watching murder shows on TV.

Because Texas has been connected with the biggest crime of this century; because the killing of Kennedy was attributed to an atmosphere of political hatred in the state and because the state, after all, is southern, then Johnson must be hung with what amounts to three nooses.

The Black Power Negroes refuse to believe any man — any white man — with a Southern accent.

The liberals look down their noses at almost anybody with a drawl.

And the intellectuals sniff at the product of a teachers college in San Marcos, Texas.

My point here is that no section of the country has a monopoly on crime and unbridled hatred. Not many of the people who demonstrated against Johnson in Central Park in daylight ten days ago would dare walk through that same park at night.

HATE AND vilification warp judgment just as heat buckles steel beams. If you tear down confidence in established authority, then those in public office blame a lot of this on the newspapers for reporting it. They say we are not doing enough reporting in-depth.

Then when we do burrow beneath the government's bright public face of fresh handouts and self-serving background conferences not for attribution, they yell at us again for distorting their purpose or trying to second-guess Dean Rusk.

So, what do we have? An effort to destroy confidence in government, plus an effort to pull down confidence in the press. Then, if both efforts are successful, whom do you believe — Doctor Spock?

Believe me, this is the time for the American public to take some responsibility for its own image and stop blaming everything on either Lyndon Johnson or Drew Pearson.

Mr. Johnson . . . in fact, no President deserves the indignities being heaped upon him these days in the name of peace or civil rights.

All of us should be able to see the situation with more clarity when we meet again next year. But meantime, L.B.J. is in for much more punishment at hands of the name callers unless the squares who raise kids, mow their lawns, and pay their taxes decide to involve themselves by getting off their patios and telling the dirty-mouths to shut the hell up.

Going Up?

By David Lawrence

Tax Of Tax Boost Increases

If President Johnson requests and Congress grants a tax increase effective in October or January, it will be the first time since 1951 that such a step will have been taken.

This could mean that in the election year 1968 whatever resentments are usually produced by a tax increase will be felt at the polls. The public may question whether a tax increase was necessary and whether the same objective couldn't have been attained by cutting federal expenditures.

It's an open secret that President Johnson dislikes the idea of a tax increase, but he has been told by his advisers that it is becoming imperative. They point out that, because of the Vietnam War and nonmilitary expenditures, the Treasury may face a deficit of $27 billion or thereabouts in the fiscal year that will begin July 1, 1968.

A tax increase could yield $5 billion of additional revenue, but the government would still be in the red by an amount unparalleled except during World War II.

When the last tax increase was enacted in 1951, the Korean War was absorbing a big part of federal funds. It is significant that, in the presidential election the following year, the Democratic administration was defeated.

MANY PEOPLE think Gen. Eisenhower's popularity was the cause of the Republican victory in 1952, but there is plenty of evidence that discontent and dissatisfaction over increased taxes, economic conditions and the Korean war change administrations.

Right now, the controversy over raising the tax rates is related directly to the need for more revenue to help offset the expenses of the Vietnam War.

Some of the economic advisers who are advocating a tax increase really are concerned about inflation and a possible rise in interest rates which could develop into a tight-money situation. Interest rates are fluctuating at present because of uncertainty over future economic trends.

It is being assumed that a tax increase will have an anti-inflationary effect. It is conceivable, on the other hand, that a tax increase — which would mean less "take home" pay — will stimulate demands for higher wages to offset the losses in take-home pay.

Inflation and higher tax rates have produced a steady reduction in the purchasing power of individual income. A person with a yearly income of $3,000 18 years ago now would have to earn $4,447 in order to get the equivalent in purchasing power today.

After paying income and Social Security taxes of $378, he would suffer a loss of $1,132 in dollars in purchasing power.

A small businessman who had a gross income of $100,000 18 years ago finds that the same sum at present means $25,000 less in purpurchasing power.

A rise in prices, which is usually related to an increase in wage costs, produces economic conditions which are not cured by higher taxes.

ADMINISTRATION officials would like to see interest rates kept down and are asuming a tax increase would do the job. But there are skeptics who say that government spending must be curtailed if there is to be an effective restraint placed upon the inflationary movement of today.

If the administration cuts $5 billion from its nonmilitary program, on the other hand, this might evoke some adverse criticism in certain areas of the country which are affected.

The stabilizing effect on the economy generally, however, would probably more than offset any such disadvantages politically.

The objective of the Johnson administration from a political standpoint is to get some kind of economic stability, at least for 1968.

With a tax increase and consequent demand for higher wages, the chances of a political defeat at the polls would grow. It would seem, moreover, that a mere six per cent surcharge in taxes is by no means assured.

For if the war in Vietnam is really expanded and the Middle East requires additional military outlays by the United States, the tax rise might be even bigger.

Wage-price controls would also be given serious consideration.

Devine Asks Johnson To Replace McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Johnson has been asked by Rep. Samuel L. Devine, R-Ohio, to replace Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Devine told the House Thursday he made the request in a letter to the President. McNamara, the Ohio congressman said, has been guilty of wrong decisions and arrogant disregard for the views of the military.

Devine Asks Johnson To Replace McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Johnson has been asked by Rep. Samuel L. Devine, R-Ohio, to replace Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

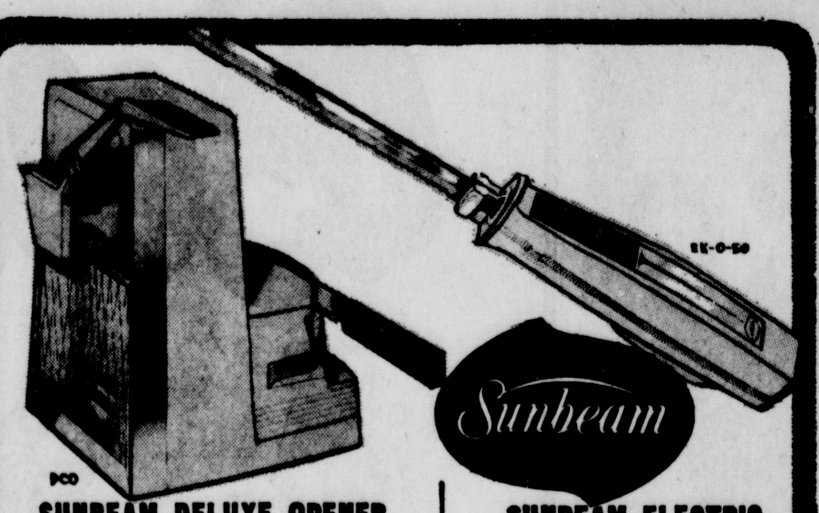

Devine told the House Thursday he made the request in a letter to the President. McNamara, the Ohio congressman said, has been guilty of wrong decisions and arrogant disregard for the views of the military.

There are no pure races of man today, but the pygmies of the Ituri forest of equatorial Africa are close.

Second Reminder Issued On Vote Expense Reports

The County Election Board mailed a second reminder Thursday to all candidates and committees which had a part in the campaign prior to the May 2 primary elections that they must file sworn statements of their expenditures before Friday, June 16, at 4 p. m.

The reminder was issued in a letter to each individual and committee, signed by Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of elections, and sent by certified mail to place it on the record at the East Liverpool Post Office.

The letter points out that Ohio law requires receipted invoices must be included for each item in excess of $25. It adds that the law provides a candidate who fails to file the report before the deadline must be barred from seeking public office for the next five years.

Signatures of persons filing the reports must be affixed in the presence of a notary public or other individual authorized to administer an oath.

In addition to the other restrictions imposed by law, the Election Board is forbidden to issue a certificate of nomination to a person who fails to file an expense report. Without the certificate, the candidate cannot advance to the general election in November.

The reports are required under the so-called "corrupt practices act," which puts a ceiling on campaign expenditures. They are required of all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and from committees which supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

If a candidate had no expenses, he still must file a negative report to stay within the requirements of the law.

Maximum spending by candidates is computed on a formula tied to the vote cast for governor in the subdivision in the last election of state officials. There is no limit on the amount which may be spent by a committee supporting a candidate.

Strikes Halt Construction In Western Pennsylvania

By The Associated Press

Hundreds of millions of dollars of construction was snarled in Western Pennsylvania today by a rash of strikes.

A strike by boilermakers, operating engineers, painters and bricklayers negotiating in Pittsburgh closed down three electric generating plant projects.

Officials had hoped to crank up the first generator next week at the Keystone Generating Plant in Indiana County, but the $175 million project was delayed.

Other projects halted were the $225 million Conemaugh Steam Generating Plant at New Florence in Westmoreland County and the $149 million Homer City project in Indiana County.

An incomplete survey indicated the strikes affected work on projects costing in the neighborhood of $750,000,000.

In Meadville, a strike by a general laborers union against the Meadville Contractors Association idled eight projects, including the $2.7 million Crawford County Area Vocational School due to open in September 1968.

The other projects included additions to hospitals, schools and manufacturers.

Work was disrupted at three Pittsburgh buildings — the $24 million, 40 - story Oliver-Tyrone building headed for 1968 completion,, the $21 million, 16-story Bell Telephone facility to be finished in 1969 and the $15 million library - classroom complex at the University of Pittsburgh.

A Pitt spokesman said the project will halt if the strike lasts a week.

A U.S. Steel Corp. spokesman said work on the firm's $50 million, 64-story skyscraper would also be delayed if the strike stretches out. U.S. Steel is shooting for a 1970 deadline.

Meanwhile, Carpenters District Council, representing about 5,000 workers in a nine-county area, broke off negotiations and said it will join the four other unions this afternoon in a strike against Pittsburgh's Master Builders Association.

Goodyear Blimp Hits Power Line; 2 Crewmen Safe

DUNREITH, Ind. (AP) —The 160-foot-long Goodyear blimp Mayflower, battling strong winds, snagged on high-tension power lines about 75 feet above the ground on busy U.S. 40 just east of this east-central Indiana town early today.

The two-man crew slid to the ground on a safety rope as police and fire department searchlights played on them.

The pilot, Richard Nye of Miami, Fla., was admitted to Henry County Hospital at nearby New Castle for exhaustion. A hospital spokesman said he would be released later today.

The other crewman, Richard Johnson, also of Miami, was unhurt.

The crewmen said a gasoline can in back of the gondola caught fire when the blimp hit the wires, but they extinguished it.

The blimp, crumpled in the middle and hanging over the wires, blocked two lanes of U.S. 40. Police rerouted heavy traffic around the site.

The power in the lines was cut, but firemen stood by.

Goodyear officials said helium had been ordered to pump into the blimp in an attempt to get it off the wires.

Robert Lane, Goodyear's public relations man at Akron, Ohio, said the blimp was en route from Indianapolis where it was during the 500-mile race held Tuesday and Wednesday.

Boy, 3, Found Dead After Being Missed

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — A 3-year-old boy was found dead Thursday night after being missing for an hour while his family was visiting at Levittsburg.

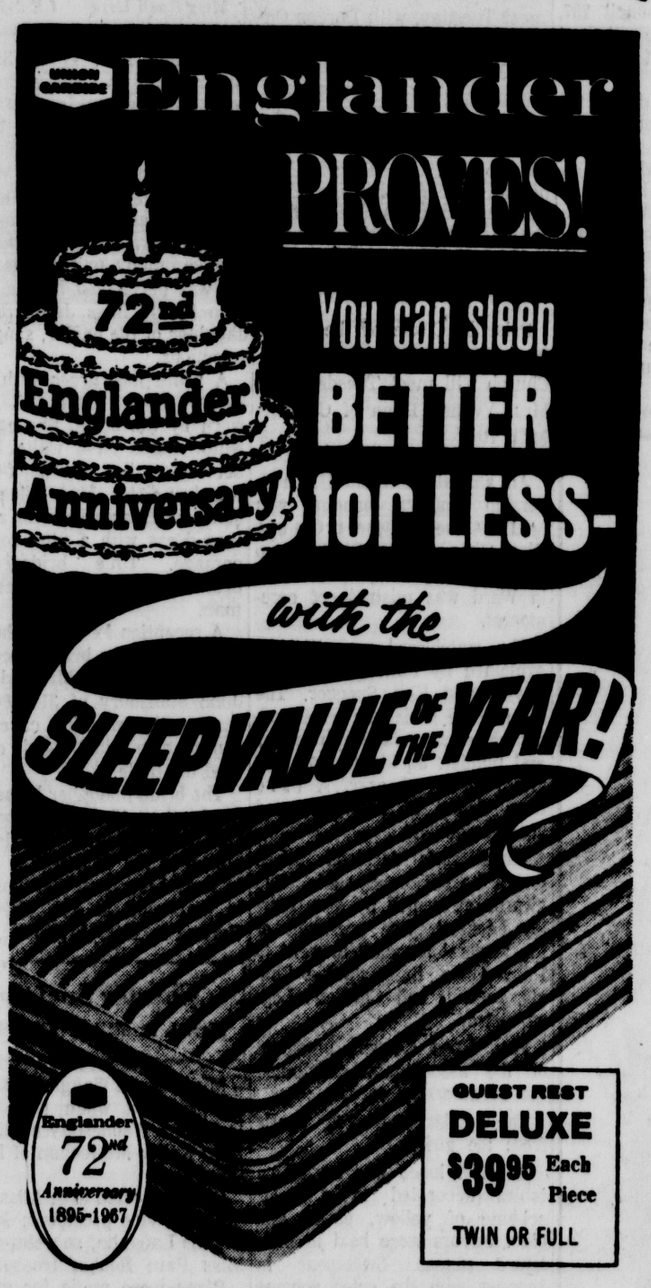

The victim, Robert J. McKay Jr., of Newton Falls, had fallen into the pit of an outdoor toilet while playing at a nearby house, sheriff's deputies said.

Oregon, in 1887, was the first state to make Labor Day a legal holiday.

DUNREITH, Ind. (AP) —The 160-foot-long Goodyear blimp Mayflower, battling strong winds, snagged on high-tension power lines about 75 feet above the ground on busy U.S. 40 just east of this east-central Indiana town early today.

The two-man crew slid to the ground on a safety rope as police and fire department searchlights played on them.

The pilot, Richard Nye of Miami, Fla., was admitted to Henry County Hospital at nearby New Castle for exhaustion. A hospital spokesman said he would be released later today.

The other crewman, Richard Johnson, also of Miami, was unhurt.

The crewmen said a gasoline can in back of the gondola caught fire when the blimp hit the wires, but they extinguished it.

The blimp, crumpled in the middle and hanging over the wires, blocked two lanes of U.S. 40. Police rerouted heavy traffic around the site.

The power in the lines was cut, but firemen stood by.

Goodyear officials said helium had been ordered to pump into the blimp in an attempt to get it off the wires.

Robert Lane, Goodyear's public relations man at Akron, Ohio, said the blimp was en route from Indianapolis where it was during the 500-mile race held Tuesday and Wednesday.

FALLACY:
Because pearls are like tears, they are symbols of grief.
FACT:
The Orientals, from whom come the finest pearls, insist they are lucky stones . . . and lucky indeed is the woman who owns lustrous pearls. Both natural and cultured pearls are relatively soft as gems go, so don't just toss them carelessly in with other jewelry. Annual restringing and cleaning will avoid unlucky accidents, too!

MEMORY LOSS IN THE ELDERLY

Q. Why is it that elderly people can recall events that happened years ago but are unable to remember something that was said five minutes before?

A. The reason isn't known but memory deterioration starts with inability to recall recent events while memory of long-past events is retained until it, too, is lost.

Send questions to: P. O. Box 1174 Louisville 1, Ky.

PRESBYCUSIS

Q. Are hearing aids of value in "old-age" deafness?

A. Hearing aids are of little or no value in many cases of hearing loss associated with advancing age (presbycusis). In such cases the subjects may have reasonably good hearing yet have difficulty in understanding speech because of a build-up or recruitment of sound. They may be unable to hear speech unless the voice is raised, then complain that the speaker is shouting if he speaks a little louder. People with this type of hearing impairment are poor candidates for hearing aids.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

What You Don't Know Can Hurt You

Hal Humphrey

Either of its own choice, or because of pressure from on high, the British Broadcasting Corp. continues to withhold from TV audiences around the world a documentary film of unimaginable importance to all of us.

Instead of millions of TV viewers witnessing "The War Game," which was made for TV, the film now will be seen by probably no more than 100,000 people in "art house" theaters under a "theatrical release only" edict put down by the BBC. (It folded at the Picfair in Hollywood this week.)

-:-

IN A WORLD networked with the most sophisticated communications techniques, there still exists a snobbery by those controlling them toward the mass of people who would derive the greatest benefits.

Wise Big Brothers sit on self-built pedestals and decide (for our own good, you understand) that we are better off not knowing too much about unidentified flying objects or precisely all the circumstances leading up to John F. Kennedy's assassination, or as in the case of "The War Game," exactly how it will look when we're all blown to kingdom come by these same Big Brothers.

At any rate, we have to assume the BBC was worried over our mental health. No one really knows, I'm told, including the British Parliament, if there were other considerations involved in BBC's banning of "The War Game," a film by the way which it commissioned young British director-writer Peter Watkins to do for TV.

-:-

WATKINS had been disturbed for some time concerning what he considers a conspiracy of silence about the fact we are all sitting precariously on millions of tons of nuclear bombs.

In 1965 the BBC told Watkins to go ahead with the documentary he had proposed.

With a harsh point-by-point logic, Watkins' cameras graphically report the average citizen's apathy toward the bomb (nurtured even by announcements of "clean" bombs by the Ecumenical Council at the Vatican), then follow this with a horrendously realistic film and audio account of a bomb exploding near Kent.

Naturally it is not a film for the kiddies, but neither should the BBC be treating their own adult viewers (or those of other nations) like kiddies by refusing to put it on the air.

According to reports in Hollywood, Watkins still is awaiting a logical answer from the BBC for restricting the film to theatrical release. The BBC has become party to the very conspiracy of silence which first bothered Watkins.

CONSIDERABLEY more frightening than Watkins' 47-minute film are the attitudes and reactions of those so-called activists we look to for helping us out of this jungle of bombs.

Bernard Bogate, representative for Pathe Contemporary (the releasing company for "The War Game" in theaters), says he has been amazed and disappointed at the reception the film has been given in Los Angeles.

"Business at two Los Angeles theaters was terrible the first two days. The Century closed it last week, and this week was the last at the Picfair after just two weeks.

"We invited representatives of many politically oriented organizations, as well as the major TV and radio stations, to attend a preview. Many did not come, and among those who did there was one club and one TV station manager," Bogate reports.

OF THOSE community-conscious citizens who did show at Bogate's preview, there seeemed to be a consensus that the film was "too drastic," or "went into too much detail." There was the feeling, too, that "The War Game" did not hold out any hope, that it would give those who saw it a "what's-the-use?" defeatism.

"We had only one group coming as a theater party," adds Bogate, "although I must say that a few high schools in the city are organizing groups for viewing it. Business here for the picture was not as good as in Milwaukee or New York City. People here, it seems, don't really want to think for themselves."

James Lpeer, head of Hollywood educational Channel 28, wants to show the film, and NBC's "Today" show had asked permission of the BBC to air just three excerpts for discussion purposes. Neither request was granted.

The masses, in other words, may never learn in advance what they may be first to experience first-hand.

Griffith, a Lisbon resident, spoke at the club's luncheon meeting in the Masonic Temple. He said the OSES has conducted four courses to train or retrain machine operators.

William Robinson, program chairman for June, introduced the speaker. Dan Myers, president, presided.

Lisbon and East Liverpool Kiwanians will join in a tour Monday evening at the Harry Bowman farm on County Rd. 419, East of Elkton.

Road Oiling Work Slated At Ohioville

Plans for road oiling were discussed when Ohioville Council met Thursday night at the borough building.

The road committee reported oiling will begin as soon as grading is completed.

F. Paul Dawson, president, reported on the roads which are scheduled for work, weather permitting.

To be oiled are approaches on Ashwood Dr., a portion of Ridgemont Dr. in the Reed Plan, the road to Hornick's Farm and Grandview Ave. Ext.

Roads to receive salt stabilization are Tusca Rd. Ext. as far as the Lester Chaffee property, Farm Dr., 4th St. and 1st Ave. in the Modany Plan.

Work on Ridgemont Dr., Hornick's Farm Rd. and Grandview Ave. Ext. will be done only if funds are available.

Council accepted a recommendation of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways to reduce the speed limits on Legislative Route 04013 from Pillar's Corners to the borough line leading to Western Beaver High School from 50 miles an hour to 40.

The borough will erect signs, maintain the road and enforce the speed limit.

WOODSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Shirley Temple for Congress?

With Rep. J. Arthur Younger announcing he will not seek re-election next year, that became a possibility.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

What You Don't Know Can Hurt You

Either of its own choice, or because of pressure from on high, the British Broadcasting Corp. continues to withhold from TV audiences around the world a documentary film of unimaginable importance to all of us.

Hal Humphrey

Instead of millions of TV viewers witnessing "The War Game," which was made for TV, the film now will be seen by probably no more than 100,000 people in "art house" theaters under a "theatrical release only" edict put down by the BBC. (It folded at the Picfair in Hollywood this week.)

-:-

IN A WORLD networked with the most sophisticated communications techniques, there still exists a snobbery by those controlling them toward the mass of people who would derive the greatest benefits.

Wise Big Brothers sit on self-built pedestals and decide (for our own good, you understand) that we are better off not knowing too much about unidentified flying objects or precisely all the circumstances leading up to John F. Kennedy's assassination, or as in the case of "The War Game," exactly how it will look when we're all blown to kingdom come by these same Big Brothers.

At any rate, we have to assume the BBC was worried over our mental health. No one really knows, I'm told, including the British Parliament, if there were other considerations involved in BBC's banning of "The War Game," a film by the way which it commissioned young British director-writer Peter Watkins to do for TV.

-:-

WATKINS had been disturbed for some time concerning what he considers a conspiracy of silence about the fact we are all sitting precariously on millions of tons of nuclear bombs.

In 1965 the BBC told Watkins to go ahead with the documentary he had proposed.

With a harsh point-by-point logic, Watkins' cameras graphically report the average citizen's apathy toward the bomb (nurtured even by announcements of "clean" bombs by the Ecumenical Council at the Vatican), then follow this with a horrendously realistic film and audio account of a bomb exploding near Kent.

Naturally it is not a film for the kiddies, but neither should the BBC be treating their own adult viewers (or those of other nations) like kiddies by refusing to put it on the air.

According to reports in Hollywood, Watkins still is awaiting a logical answer from the BBC for restricting the film to theatrical release. The BBC has become party to the very conspiracy of silence which first bothered Watkins.

CONSIDERABLEY more frightening than Watkins' 47-minute film are the attitudes and reactions of those so-called activists we look to for helping us out of this jungle of bombs.

Bernard Bogate, representative for Pathe Contemporary (the releasing company for "The War Game" in theaters), says he has been amazed and disappointed at the reception the film has been given in Los Angeles.

"Business at two Los Angeles theaters was terrible the first two days. The Century closed it last week, and this week was the last at the Picfair after just two weeks.

"We invited representatives of many politically oriented organizations, as well as the major TV and radio stations, to attend a preview. Many did not come, and among those who did there was one club and one TV station manager," Bogate reports.

OF THOSE community-conscious citizens who did show at Bogate's preview, there seeemed to be a consensus that the film was "too drastic," or "went into too much detail." There was the feeling, too, that "The War Game" did not hold out any hope, that it would give those who saw it a "what's-the-use?" defeatism.

"We had only one group coming as a theater party," adds Bogate, "although I must say that a few high schools in the city are organizing groups for viewing it. Business here for the picture was not as good as in Milwaukee or New York City. People here, it seems, don't really want to think for themselves."

James Lpeer, head of Hollywood educational Channel 28, wants to show the film, and NBC's "Today" show had asked permission of the BBC to air just three excerpts for discussion purposes. Neither request was granted.

The masses, in other words, may never learn in advance what they may be first to experience first-hand.

the omnibus bill which cleared the House by a 79-9 vote, said he favored reflectorized plates but could not support the bill "because it would cost my taxing district $151,000.

Representatives debated 3½ hours before passing the safety bill which now goes to the Senate. Only one of eight floor amendments found favor of the lawmakers and it added to instead of took away from the sweeping measure.

The amendment by Rep. Howard A. Knight R-13 Sandusky would require the use of so-called baffle plates on motorcycle mufflers.

Other major provisions in the measure would provide for random inspection of automobiles by the Highway Patrol, increased penalties for traffic law violations, require driver education in public and parochial high schools, and increase driver license fees to finance the education programs.

License fees would be increased from 75 cents to $4 for operator and chauffeur licenses, 50 cents to $3 for temporary licenses, 25 cents to $1 for duplicates. For the first time, a separate $4 license would be required for operators of motorcycles.

The increases would raise an additional $7 million a year to provide $30 per pupil annually for driver training.

In other developments:

—Gov. James A. Rhodes signed into law an emergency bill seeking to ban racial discrimination in hiring for public construction projects.

—The Senate completed passage of House bills making county agricultural agents ex officio members of county agricultural societies and redefining powers and duties of the State Fire Marshal's Office.

The 1967 USGA amateur golf championship will be played Aug. 28-31 at the Scioto Country Club in Columbus, Ohio.

Patterson Industries has contributed $9,400 to the "Dollars for Scholars" drives over the past five years—more than any other overall contributor, Vodrey said.

Officials Plan New Meeting On City Ambulance Problem

Mayor George E. Willshaw and members of City Council are scheduled to meet tonight at 7 at City Hall with four district men who have expressed interest in providing private ambulance service for East Liverpool after three funeral homes discontinue the operation July 15.

The mayor and all seven members of Council held a general review of the problem in a meeting Thursday night at Willshaw's office. The mayor presented information on operation of private ambulance services which he gathered in visits to Steubenville, Berea, Canton, Massillon and Alliance and a check with the Beacon Ambulance Service which serves the Washingtonville - Leetonia area.

Councilman Harold Maylone also presented data which he obtained in discussions with operators of three funeral homes which now provide the service.

The mayor said the four individuals who expressed interest in setting up ambulance companies have been invited to meet separately with the officials in the continuing discussion tonight.

Data gathered by Maylone's committee showed that the three funeral homes now answer an average of 150 calls monthly in East Liverpool and the adjacent communities.

Maylone's study showed an operating cost of $32,000 to $35,000 a year if a firm had one ambulance. Addition of another ambulance to provide "backup" service would cost another $15,000 to $20,000 a year, his estimates show.

In most of the communities which the mayor contacted in the last several weeks, the municipalities signed contracts with private operators — including a subsidy for the city—after funeral homes discontinued the traditional service.

the omnibus bill which cleared the House by a 79-9 vote, said he favored reflectorized plates but could not support the bill "because it would cost my taxing district $151,000.

Representatives debated 3½ hours before passing the safety bill which now goes to the Senate. Only one of eight floor amendments found favor of the lawmakers and it added to instead of took away from the sweeping measure.

The amendment by Rep. Howard A. Knight R-13 Sandusky would require the use of so-called baffle plates on motorcycle mufflers.

Other major provisions in the measure would provide for random inspection of automobiles by the Highway Patrol, increased penalties for traffic law violations, require driver education in public and parochial high schools, and increase driver license fees to finance the education programs.

License fees would be increased from 75 cents to $4 for operator and chauffeur licenses, 50 cents to $3 for temporary licenses, 25 cents to $1 for duplicates. For the first time, a separate $4 license would be required for operators of motorcycles.

The increases would raise an additional $7 million a year to provide $30 per pupil annually for driver training.

In other developments:

—Gov. James A. Rhodes signed into law an emergency bill seeking to ban racial discrimination in hiring for public construction projects.

—The Senate completed passage of House bills making county agricultural agents ex officio members of county agricultural societies and redefining powers and duties of the State Fire Marshal's Office.

Six Soldiers Electrocuted Raising Pole

SPRINGFIELD, Va. (AP) — A witness said it was like the famous Marine flag-raising at Iwo Jima.

Except this time it was six Army enlisted men raising the flag pole. And instead of a battle-pocked hill on a distant island, the scene was a Little League baseball field in a Washington suburb.

Then the 40-foot metal pole swayed. The six soldiers strained, trying to hold it in place.

But the pole toppled, hitting a 7,200-volt power line. Electricity crackled down the pole, spitting and hissing in blue and white flashes.

The six soldiers fell dead in the mud, their clothes smoking, some of them burned almost beyond recognition.

The Army identified the six soldiers, all assigned to the community assistance project from Ft. Belvoir, Va., as: Pvt. Charles P. Oliver, Vermilion, Ohio; Spec. 4 Kenneth G. Steiner, St. Ann, Mo.; Pvt. Marvin D. Harrison, Jacksonville, Fla.; Pvt. Paul D. Briggs, Waco, Tex.; Pvt. Anthony B. Evans, Uniontown, Pa.; Pvt. Charles M. Whaleyn, Aberdeen, Ohio.

"It looked like that group in the Iowa Jima statue," said 16-year-old Bob Ramey, who witnessed the midafternoon tragedy.

Because the ground was wet, would-be rescuers, including four other Ft. Belvoir soldiers in the 10-man work party, were warned away from the accident scene until the power could be cut off.

Dr. William Enos, a Virginia medical examiner, said the men all died virtually instantly.

Work Halted On Crucible's New Projects

Construction work on Crucible Steel Co.'s new continuing casting mill at the Midland Works, TOC facility and new heat treat line has been almost completely halted as a result of a walkout of contractor's employes.

Some 125 workers left their jobs early this morning in connection with the expiration of contracts.

A spokesman for Crucible said most of the employes of Paris Construction Co., Donora Construction Co., Dravo Corp., Mill Creek Electrical Construction Co. and W. W. Clark Electrical Construction Co. came to work this morning because they had received information a contract extension had been granted.

However, the men returned home when it was learned the extension had not yet been granted but is under discussion.

The spokesman said Crucible's production is unaffected.

The United States and Japan each have more amateur and professional photographers than any other country in the world.

More than 90 attended a dinner at the Country Club Thursday night honoring Clifford Smith of 661 Riley Ave., who retired this week as press foreman at The Review.

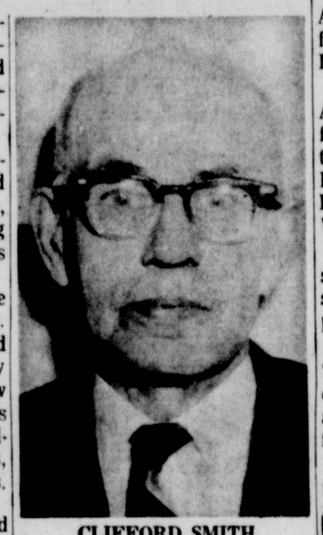

Smith, a native of East Liverpool who had been employed at the newspaper for 48 years, was presented a gift following a program, with John Hales as master of ceremonies.

The program, "Through the Years," was narrated by Mrs. Clara Hall, society reporter, and included singing, a poem by Mark Abrams, former Review printer, and representative dress styles of the 20th century modeled by Mrs. Norma Richards, Mrs. Ann Claypool and Mrs. Edna Anderson.

Mrs. Vonnie McClure played the piano and Howard Claypool sang.

George Shaw, publisher, introduced guests, including C. V. Hughes, former Review business manager.

Smith, who has been succeeded as foreman by Eugene Conrad, formerly of Ashland, reviewed varied incidents during his lengthy career.

Six Soldiers Electrocuted Raising Pole

SPRINGFIELD, Va. (AP) — A witness said it was like the famous Marine flag-raising at Iwo Jima.

Except this time it was six Army enlisted men raising the flag pole. And instead of a battle-pocked hill on a distant island, the scene was a Little League baseball field in a Washington suburb.

Then the 40-foot metal pole swayed. The six soldiers strained, trying to hold it in place.

But the pole toppled, hitting a 7,200-volt power line. Electricity crackled down the pole, spitting and hissing in blue and white flashes.

The six soldiers fell dead in the mud, their clothes smoking, some of them burned almost beyond recognition.

The Army identified the six soldiers, all assigned to the community assistance project from Ft. Belvoir, Va., as: Pvt. Charles P. Oliver, Vermilion, Ohio; Spec. 4 Kenneth G. Steiner, St. Ann, Mo.; Pvt. Marvin D. Harrison, Jacksonville, Fla.; Pvt. Paul D. Briggs, Waco, Tex.; Pvt. Anthony B. Evans, Uniontown, Pa.; Pvt. Charles M. Whaleyn, Aberdeen, Ohio.

"It looked like that group in the Iowa Jima statue," said 16-year-old Bob Ramey, who witnessed the midafternoon tragedy.

Because the ground was wet, would-be rescuers, including four other Ft. Belvoir soldiers in the 10-man work party, were warned away from the accident scene until the power could be cut off.

Dr. William Enos, a Virginia medical examiner, said the men all died virtually instantly.

Work Halted On Crucible's New Projects

Construction work on Crucible Steel Co.'s new continuing casting mill at the Midland Works, TOC facility and new heat treat line has been almost completely halted as a result of a walkout of contractor's employes.

Some 125 workers left their jobs early this morning in connection with the expiration of contracts.

A spokesman for Crucible said most of the employes of Paris Construction Co., Donora Construction Co., Dravo Corp., Mill Creek Electrical Construction Co. and W. W. Clark Electrical Construction Co. came to work this morning because they had received information a contract extension had been granted.

However, the men returned home when it was learned the extension had not yet been granted but is under discussion.

The spokesman said Crucible's production is unaffected.

James Jordan was program chairman, assisted by Thayer Allison and J. Paul Finlay.

The honor students included: Nila Allison, Cathy Clark, George Cook, James Foltz, Juanita Haynes, Patty Highfield, Carmen LaNeve, Bruce Parkins, Earnest Rice, Carl Watson, Randy Weyrich, Nancy Cheuvront, Nancy Cline, Clifford Everly, Michael Franczek, Kelsey Hayward, Judy Jordan, Michael Manley, Deborah Poole, Robert Vukas and Dean Wern.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: When a man marries a woman who is young enough to be his daughter — or his granddaughter — why do people think it is so romantic and glamorous? Yet when a woman marries a man who is younger than she is, the eyebrows shoot up and her sanity is questioned.

When I was 18 I married a man 38. That marriage lasted 14 years and ended in divorce. Now I am married to a man 16 years my junior and we get along beautifully. But the outside world will not let us alone. Some fairly intelligent people have asked me some unbelievably crass questions. Will you comment, please? — DECEMBER AND MAY.

Dear December: More old gaffers marry young chicks than the other way around, so people have come to accept more readily the May-December combination than the December-May arrangements.

A woman who marries a man 16 years her junior should expect some comment but if she has a good marriage it should not bother her.

Educate Phone Users

Dear Ann: I'm glad you printed the letter from the Information Operator who resented being called "an ignorant broad."

I've been employed by the telephone company for a long time and I'd like to offer some additional pointers to the public.

1. Mothers, please teach your children to use the telephone book instead of how to dial "information."

2. Learn the name of your cleaner, beauty shop, grocery store and "that little hamburger place on the corner." How do you expect us to know it if you don't?

3. Please don't chew potato chips and nuts and hard candy in our ears.

4. Please have a pencil handy when you call information for a number. Sometimes people say, "Hold on while I get a pencil." Then they must go to the store to buy one!

Thanks for helping us educate the public. — AREA CODE 312.

Dear A.C.: Here's your letter and I hope all you lazy mothers, potato-chip chewers and pencilless people will pay attention.

He's Unconvinced

Dear Ann: I'm 18. The boy I used to be ape over treated me pretty rotten and finally I told him to flake off. He did for six weeks. Then he started to call me again.

We've had three dates since the bust-up and now I'm sure there is nothing left of that old feeling. In fact, I barely can stand him.

The trouble is my mother thinks he's the greatest and she keeps trying to sell me on him. He knows this so he keeps coming to the house under the pretense of visiting her.

Last night he was here for two hours. I stayed on the phone, and read the newspaper the whole time. I know it was rude, but he grates on my nerves.

How can I get my mother to put an end to this phoney friendship which is really a plot to get me re-interested? — D.J.N.

Dear D.: Your mother has a right to entertain anyone she pleases. Give the guy a pleasant greeting, then go into another room. Since he is not your guest, you are under no obligation to entertain him. After awhile he'll give up.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Auto Mishaps Climb In May

East Liverpool recorded 64 traffic accidents in May, an increase of four from the 60 in April, it was shown today in the monthly summary of police department activity.

Ten persons were injured in the accidents, including one pedestrian. The number injured was down five from the 15 in the preceding month. No one was killed.

The department handled 710 radio transmissions and made 46 arrests, including one for driving while intoxicated and three for being in physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

Two persons were reported missing and both later returned. Five car thefts were reported, with four recovered. The department filed 24 casualty reports on persons injured or taken ill.

Eight cars were towed off streets, mostly disabled vehicles removed from accident scenes.

The department reported 13 burglaries, 23 petty thefts and 30 cases of vandalism.

The statistics are compiled monthly by Capt. Kenneth H. Mooney and Patrolman William A. Devon for use of the local department and for such agencies as the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the National Safety Council.

National Debt Slashed $1.97 By Students

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal debt is $1.97 lower thanks to a high school government class.

Class members took up a collection and sent their check to the Treasury Department to help retire the debt which by comparison to their contribution is staggering—about $328 billion.

The class donation went into a special fund for debt retirement which will celebrate its sixth anniversary this month and probably will reach its first million dollars within the next year.

The fund isn't designed to wipe out the entire debt. It's simply a handy place for debt-retiring gifts.

Through April 30, the special fund had collected $909,066.82, most of it from the will of the late Susan Vaughan Clayton of Houston, Tex. She willed half the income from a trust fund to the federal government to help retire the debt.

She and Rep. Charles Bennett, D-Fla., sponsor of the legislation which created the special fund, are the only donors of record. Bennett contributed the first $1,000. The Treasury Department declined to identify other donors—including the government class.

Donations since last July 1 totaled $93,173.84 and ran from one shilling—14 cents— to $90,618.33 from the Clayton trust fund.

Exercises Can Restore Tone

A courageous reducer needs help in restoring tone. She writes:

"Help. . .please help! I have lost 50 punds over a seven-month period. Result, flabby upper arms and toneless thighs. The lost pounds and inches are wonderful, but I am so disgusted with the end - result in the two spots mentioned, that I am sorely tempted to forget about the other 50 pounds I still need to lose. Yet I hate to give up at this point. I will be deeply grateful for any exercises that can help overcome flabbiness," she concludes.

First, congratulations on your weight loss. You reduced at a fairly brisk rate, but this is not too fast considering the amount of your excess. Be content to lose at a slower rate in removing the second 50 pounds.

—:—

THE BACKS of the upper arms and the inner and outer thigh muscles are two muscularly "dead" areas, because these muscles are not brought into action in routine activities. Special exercises can restore live tone.

Working with weights is effective in toning the triceps muscles of upper arms. Purchase a pair of dumbbells, weighing 2 to 3 pounds each.

Grasping a dumbbell in each hand, take the following exercise: Standing, or sitting, hold arms out at sides shoulder level. Bring hands together in front of chest. Have palms facing and keep elbows straight throughout the exercise. For the return action, twist wrists to turn palms reverse way, and swing arms back to starting position. Repeat a dozen times, exercising slowly.

Exercising against the resistance of water is rewarding. If you swim, or even if you do not swim, if you have access to a pool you can take this toner.

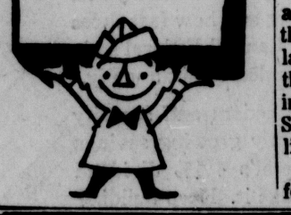

Stand near the shallow end of the pool with water about chest level, hold arms out at sides, palms facing forward. Push against the resistance of the water as you bring hands together, turn palms and push back against resistance of water. Repeat a dozen times, rest and repeat. Of course it is more exercise if you are floating on your back, and keeping yourself afloat and pushing forward and backwards in the water.

TO TONE thigh muscles: If you swim, practice the frog kick with your legs, for that reaches inner thigh muscles. If you do not swim, try to purchase "beauty boots", which are weighted shoes. The weights afford resistance. Swing alternate legs in a side - to - side action, such as clearing two waste baskets, one a-top the other.

Another thigh - toner: Lying on back, extend legs straight up in air. Separate legs, swinging toward sides, then bring legs inward, crossing legs in air. Repeat a dozen times, rest and repeat.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: When a man marries a woman who is young enough to be his daughter — or his granddaughter — why do people think it is so romantic and glamorous? Yet when a woman marries a man who is younger than she is, the eyebrows shoot up and her sanity is questioned.

When I was 18 I married a man 38. That marriage lasted 14 years and ended in divorce. Now I am married to a man 16 years my junior and we get along beautifully. But the outside world will not let us alone. Some fairly intelligent people have asked me some unbelievably crass questions. Will you comment, please? — DECEMBER AND MAY.

Dear December: More old gaffers marry young chicks than the other way around, so people have come to accept more readily the May-December combination than the December-May arrangements.

A woman who marries a man 16 years her junior should expect some comment but if she has a good marriage it should not bother her.

Educate Phone Users

Dear Ann: I'm glad you printed the letter from the Information Operator who resented being called "an ignorant broad."

I've been employed by the telephone company for a long time and I'd like to offer some additional pointers to the public.

1. Mothers, please teach your children to use the telephone book instead of how to dial "information."

2. Learn the name of your cleaner, beauty shop, grocery store and "that little hamburger place on the corner." How do you expect us to know it if you don't?

3. Please don't chew potato chips and nuts and hard candy in our ears.

4. Please have a pencil handy when you call information for a number. Sometimes people say, "Hold on while I get a pencil." Then they must go to the store to buy one!

Thanks for helping us educate the public. — AREA CODE 312.

At Youngstown Meeting

Trumbull Man Returned To Head Highway Group

A Trumbull County man was returned as president of the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway Association Thursday night during the four - county organization's annual business meeting in Youngstown.

He is Harold J. Mills of Warren, selected by the Board of Directors in its annual reorganization meeting.

The board also elected: E. R. Chandler, executive manager of the East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce, vice president; Robert L. Morton of Warren, secretary, and Walter Scott of Youngstown, treasurer.

Chandler, formerly secretary, succeeds A. P. Morris of Salem.

The board reorganized after four of its members had been elected to new terms. They are: Francis H. Lang, East Liverpool attorney who was charter president of the association; Mills, J. Paul Mossman of Youngstown and A. C. (Pat) Patterson of Ashtabula.

The nominating committee which presented the names for board posts was comprised of Chandler, Scott, Robert Morton of Warren and William Rigner of Ashtabula.

Lang and Mossman comprised the nominating committee which presented the new slate of officers. The association made tentative plans for a meeting in September to which it will invite officials of the Division 11 and Division 4 offices of the State Highway Department.

The business meeting followed dinner at the Youngstown Club in the Union National Bank Building.

The agenda also included annual reports of officers and committees. Mills reviewed the work of the association in the last year.

The organization is comprised of civic leaders in Columbiana, Mahoning, Ashtabula and Trumbull Counties. It was organized several years ago to help promote construction of the Lake-Erie - Ohio River Highway, also known as State Route 11, which eventually will link Ohio River ports in East Liverpool with Lake Erie docks in Ashtabula.

William Thornton won a $500 prize for his architectural design of the national Capitol in 1792.

Schedule Set In Closing Of Schools Here

With the 1966-67 school year drawing to a close, Supt. Paul Blair today announced the schedule for next week in the East Liverpool system.

Students will not attend school next Wednesday, it having been set aside as a "work day" for the teachers.

Elementary pupils will be dismissed at the regular time on Tuesday and then return Thursday, the final day of school.

On the last day, when report cards are distributed, high school students are to report at 8:40 a.m. Buses will remain at the school until the students are dismissed after the cards are issued.

East Junior High students also are to report at 8:40 a.m., but will not be dismissed until 11:30. At Westgate, the students will report at 8:25 a.m. and be dismissed at 10:30.

Elementary children are not to report in the morning. All are to return at 1 p.m. Thursday for their report cards. Buses will wait for them, Blair said.

Man Sentenced For Violation Of Probation Terms

Eugene C. Hughes, 24, formerly of 873 Logan St. here, was sentenced in Common Pleas Court Wednesday to 1 to 15 years for burglary.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard ordered him committed to the Ohio State Penitentiary after finding he violated terms of probation granted Feb. 14.

Hughes pleaded guilty last Oct. 24 to a burglary July 10 at C. & J. Motors, W. 8th and Jefferson Sts.

He left the county without notifying the probation officer. He was returned last month from Aztec, N. M.

Lisbon's Stone House Will Open On Sunday

LISBON — The Old Stone House on Washington St. — one block south of the Square — will be open to visitors from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday.

The Lisbon Historical Society, which owns and maintains the building as a museum, opens it to the public Sunday afternoons during the summer.

Mrs. Charles Lewis will be hostess Sunday. There will be a special display of miniature lamps and hand lamps.

2 Federal School Programs Will Continue This Summer

Two federal school programs conducted in East Liverpool last year will be continued again this summer.

Elementary summer school will be held for six weeks beginning June 12. Some 300 are expected to participate, with classes daily from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m.

A part of the life adjustment curriculum, the classes will utilize reading laboratories at East Junior and Westgate Schools. The programs are designed for the disadvantaged, although others can avail themselves of the work on recommendation of a teacher.

This will be a remedial as well as enrichment program, school officials pointed out.

Another phase of the same program will be conducted at East Junior. This will include classes in sewing, industrial arts, physical education and art. Some 60 youngsters will be enrolled.

Junior high summer school, a part of the regular Board of Education program, also will be held again this year. This is for sudents who must complete makeup work to be promoted. The student may make up one or two subjects. The classes will run from June 12 to Aug. 14.

On the high school level, summer school is being offered in American government, economics, American history, world history, English II and III and geometry.

This also will be for eight weeks. Students may use the time for makeup work or for taking a course that they cannot fit into their regular time. Classes are not filled at present.

Plans call for holding all courses in the morning if sufficient staff members can be obtained. Otherwise, world history will be held in the afternoon.

This is the first year geometry has been offered in summer school.

There is a $5 materials fee, although no additional tuition is charged.

Trumbull Man Returned To Head Highway Group

A Trumbull County man was returned as president of the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway Association Thursday night during the four - county organization's annual business meeting in Youngstown.

He is Harold J. Mills of Warren, selected by the Board of Directors in its annual reorganization meeting.

The board also elected: E. R. Chandler, executive manager of the East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce, vice president; Robert L. Morton of Warren, secretary, and Walter Scott of Youngstown, treasurer.

Chandler, formerly secretary, succeeds A. P. Morris of Salem.

The board reorganized after four of its members had been elected to new terms. They are: Francis H. Lang, East Liverpool attorney who was charter president of the association; Mills, J. Paul Mossman of Youngstown and A. C. (Pat) Patterson of Ashtabula.

The nominating committee which presented the names for board posts was comprised of Chandler, Scott, Robert Morton of Warren and William Rigner of Ashtabula.

Lang and Mossman comprised the nominating committee which presented the new slate of officers. The association made tentative plans for a meeting in September to which it will invite officials of the Division 11 and Division 4 offices of the State Highway Department.

The business meeting followed dinner at the Youngstown Club in the Union National Bank Building.

The agenda also included annual reports of officers and committees. Mills reviewed the work of the association in the last year.

The organization is comprised of civic leaders in Columbiana, Mahoning, Ashtabula and Trumbull Counties. It was organized several years ago to help promote construction of the Lake-Erie - Ohio River Highway, also known as State Route 11, which eventually will link Ohio River ports in East Liverpool with Lake Erie docks in Ashtabula.

William Thornton won a $500 prize for his architectural design of the national Capitol in 1792.

Schedule Set In Closing Of Schools Here

With the 1966-67 school year drawing to a close, Supt. Paul Blair today announced the schedule for next week in the East Liverpool system.

Students will not attend school next Wednesday, it having been set aside as a "work day" for the teachers.

Elementary pupils will be dismissed at the regular time on Tuesday and then return Thursday, the final day of school.

On the last day, when report cards are distributed, high school students are to report at 8:40 a.m. Buses will remain at the school until the students are dismissed after the cards are issued.

East Junior High students also are to report at 8:40 a.m., but will not be dismissed until 11:30. At Westgate, the students will report at 8:25 a.m. and be dismissed at 10:30.

Elementary children are not to report in the morning. All are to return at 1 p.m. Thursday for their report cards. Buses will wait for them, Blair said.

Man Sentenced For Violation Of Probation Terms

Eugene C. Hughes, 24, formerly of 873 Logan St. here, was sentenced in Common Pleas Court Wednesday to 1 to 15 years for burglary.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard ordered him committed to the Ohio State Penitentiary after finding he violated terms of probation granted Feb. 14.

Hughes pleaded guilty last Oct. 24 to a burglary July 10 at C. & J. Motors, W. 8th and Jefferson Sts.

He left the county without notifying the probation officer. He was returned last month from Aztec, N. M.

Lisbon's Stone House Will Open On Sunday

LISBON — The Old Stone House on Washington St. — one block south of the Square — will be open to visitors from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday.

The Lisbon Historical Society, which owns and maintains the building as a museum, opens it to the public Sunday afternoons during the summer.

Mrs. Charles Lewis will be hostess Sunday. There will be a special display of miniature lamps and hand lamps.

2 Federal School Programs Will Continue This Summer

Two federal school programs conducted in East Liverpool last year will be continued again this summer.

Elementary summer school will be held for six weeks beginning June 12. Some 300 are expected to participate, with classes daily from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m.

A part of the life adjustment curriculum, the classes will utilize reading laboratories at East Junior and Westgate Schools. The programs are designed for the disadvantaged, although others can avail themselves of the work on recommendation of a teacher.

This will be a remedial as well as enrichment program, school officials pointed out.

Another phase of the same program will be conducted at East Junior. This will include classes in sewing, industrial arts, physical education and art. Some 60 youngsters will be enrolled.

Junior high summer school, a part of the regular Board of Education program, also will be held again this year. This is for sudents who must complete makeup work to be promoted. The student may make up one or two subjects. The classes will run from June 12 to Aug. 14.

On the high school level, summer school is being offered in American government, economics, American history, world history, English II and III and geometry.

This also will be for eight weeks. Students may use the time for makeup work or for taking a course that they cannot fit into their regular time. Classes are not filled at present.

Plans call for holding all courses in the morning if sufficient staff members can be obtained. Otherwise, world history will be held in the afternoon.

This is the first year geometry has been offered in summer school.

There is a $5 materials fee, although no additional tuition is charged.

A dog handled by Harry Grim of Steubenville has been announced as the winner of the second in a series of hunts last Saturday night.

Other winners were Charles Schell of Rogers, second; Delbert Reed of Chester, third; Bill Henrich of East Liverpool, fourth, and Frank McCullard of Richmond, fifth. Thirty dogs were entered.

Herring To Wittenberg . . .

Darryl (Tweetie) Herring, who excited Potter football fans during the 1966 season with his thrilling touchdown runs, will attend Wittenberg University at Springfield.

Since Wittenberg is an Ohio Conference member. Athletes are permitted to play varsity sports their freshman year.

Herring was awarded an academic grant-in-aid to Wittenberg, according to Jim Render, Potter football assistant.

The Potter halfback was given aid mainly on his academic standing in high school plus being president of his senior class and a member of the football and basketball squads.

Herring led East Liverpool in rushing this past season and was named the team's most valuable player and outstanding offensive back. He also was named to the All-District team and was on the honorable mention list of the all-state squad.

Headed For Wittenberg.

Wittenberg, coached by Bill Edwards, tied for first place in the Ohio Conference last season.

Herring earned two varsity letters in football and was a regular on the basketball squad for two seasons.

New Inn Opens At Waterford . . .

WATERFORD PARK, which is experiencing its best season so far as mutuels and attendance is concerned, has added a new dimension with the new Holiday Inn which opens today.

A bath and tennis club adjacent to the Inn opened Tuesday while a par 3 golf course is expected to be ready within two weeks.

With the latest additions to the park, Jim Edwards, president, can lay claim to one of the best-looking horse racing plants in the nation.

SPEAKING OF horseracing, a strike, similar to the one at Waterford Park two years ago, has hit Shenandoah Downs in the Eastern Panhandle.

Some 170 ticket sellers went on strike and Shenandoah has advertised for pari-mutuel ticket agents.

The current pari-mutuel sellers, seeking union recognition, voted Monday to go on strike because they said management refused to recognize a National Union Building Service Union of the AFL-CIO as their bargaining agent.

Rainout Provided Boom . . .

WHAT DO you think the rainout of the Indianapolis 500 did for hotels and restaurants this week?

It provided a boom for the hotel and restaurant owners and also gave the school children an extra day of vacation.

All motels and hotels were jammed again overnight as thousands of fans stayed over when rain stopped the Memorial Day Race.

All Indianapolis public schools were closed because city buses used to transport pupils were tied up hauling fans to the Speedway.

Most race fans remained the extra day including two local couples. Mr. and Mrs. Rey Peduzzi and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Dye attended the '500' and stayed to see the completion of the race. Peduzzi, who resides in East Liverpool, and Dye are teachers and assistant fooball coaches at Midland High.

Veteran Plate Glass nipped Travelers Hotel 3-2 in eight innings while Burbick's outlasted Chester Legion, 10-8 and the Medics defeated Parsons's Coal, 13-4, in Little League contests Thursday.

Veteran Plate punched a run across in the eighth inning when R. Reed drove in the winning run. G. Hanlon and L. O'Hanlon combined to pitch a two hitter for Veteran Glass as Gaston was the losing pitcher while O'Hanlon gained the victory.

Trailing 6-0, Burbick's rallied for 10 runs in the third, fourth and fifth innings to post its victory over the Chester Legion.

Al Loker led Burbick's with a pair of doubles while Jeff Jones tripled and Clutter singled twice. Dykes was the winning pitcher with Huff the loser.

The Medics collected 11 hits to defeat Parsons. Dailey paced the attack with four hits and Lockhart was the winning hurler and Yanni the loser.

Franks blasted a grand slam home run to provide all of Parsons scoring.

Perry In Two-Hitter

Bucs Slip To 4th Place; Reds Win With 2 In 9th

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The way Phil Niekro's knuckleball was dancing around, it should have been wearing ballerina's slippers.

Or perhaps a suit of armor for catcher Joe Torre would have been more appropriate.

Torre was the unfortunate fellow on the receiving end of Niekro's fluttering floater Thursday night. The Atlanta catcher was charged with two passed balls in a nightmarish ninth inning as St. Louis rallied for a pair of runs and then went on to defeat the Braves 5-4 in 10 innings.

The ninth inning was just as bleak for Leo Durocher's Chicago Cubs, who saw a two-run lead evaporate into a 7-6 Cincinnati victory. In other National League games, Houston dropped New York 4-1, San Francisco pounded Pittsburgh 7-1 and Philadelphia defeated Los Angeles 6-1.

Denny Lemaster was sailing along on a six-hitter with a 4-2 lead as the Cardinals came to bat in the bottom of the ninth. John Romano opened with a bouncer to Clete Boyer, but the usually sure-handed third baseman threw the ball away for a two-base error.

Exit Lemaster, enter Niekro. Dick Hughes ran for Romano and moved to third as Niekro served a wild pitch.

Lou Brock's sacrifice fly brought Hughes home. Then Julian Javier walked and two of Niekro's knucklers fluttered their way past Torre, moving Javier to third. Curt Flood's single scored Javier with the tying run.

"Those balls were really moving," said Flood. "If he had been throwing strikes, he'd have been vicious. I didn't know where the ball was going, but he didn't either."

Niekro was gone in the 10th when Phil Gagliano singled and raced home on Bobby Tolan's two-out triple for the game-winner.

The Cubs suffered through a similar ninth inning against the Reds. Cal Koonce was protecting a 6-4 lead built mostly on five runs batted in by Billy Williams, who socked a pair of home runs.

Koonce struck out the first two batters in the bottom of the ninth, but Floyd Robinson beat out an infield hit. Vada Pinson's triple brought Robinson home, and moments later Pinson scored the tying run on a wild pitch.

Then Pete Rose walked and was safe at second on an attempted force play when Glenn Beckert dropped the throw for his third error of the game. Deron Johnson, who had singled home two runs in the eighth, walked, loading the bases and Tommy Helms drilled a single, scoring Rose with the winner.

Mike Cuellar fired a three-hitter as the Astros handed the struggling Mets their fifth straight loss. Cuellar, who struck out nine, also drove in a run with a double.

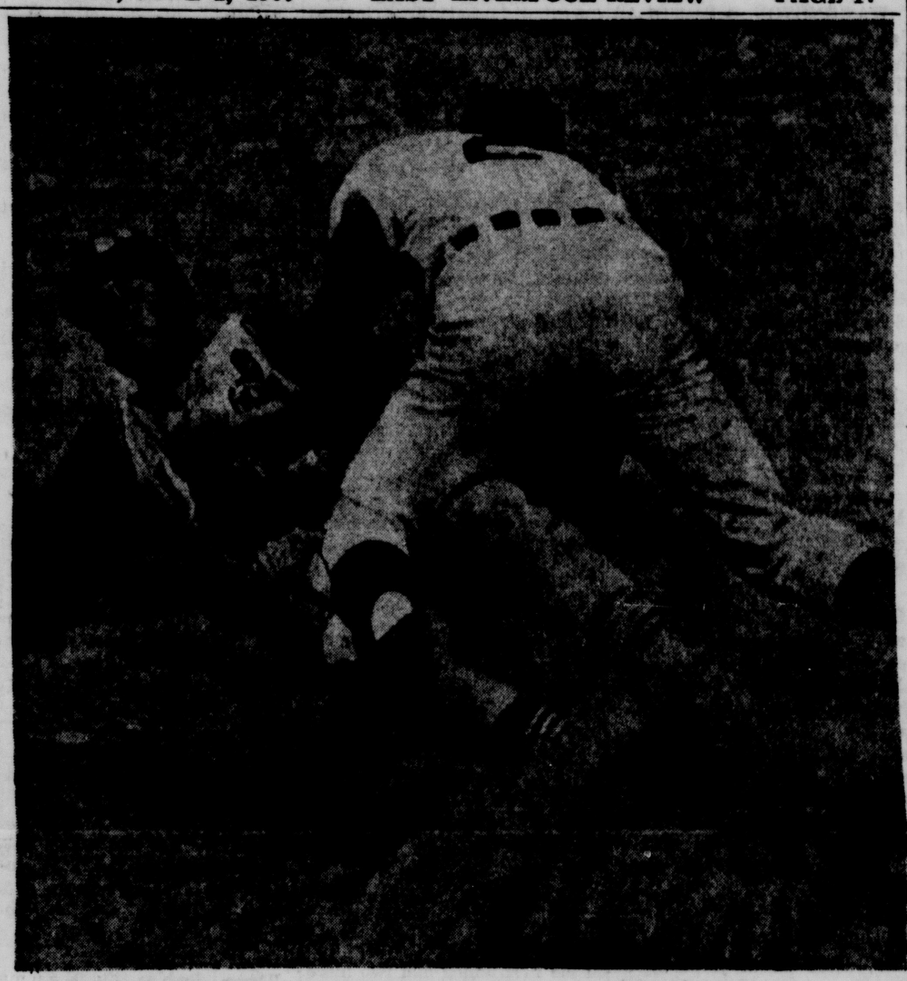

Rookie Norm Miller stroked three hits, scored one run and drove in another for the Astros. Ed Mathews socked his fourth home run of the season and career number 497.

Gaylord Perry pitched six no-hit innings against the Pirates and finished with a two-hitter as the Giants moved past Pittsburgh into third place.

Dick Dietz and Jesus Alou homered for San Francisco.

Rich Allen drove in four runs for the Phillies — three of them on a sixth-inning home run — against the Dodgers.

Larry Jackson scattered eight hits and had the Dodgers shut out until the ninth when Los Angeles snapped a 23-inning runless skein on Jim Hickman's triple.

Pacer Scores 21st Straight

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Some folks put the rap on Romeo Hanover, the Buckpasser of harness racing, but the 4-year-old pacer just keeps on winning like this thoroughbred contemporary.

The heir apparent to the harness horse of the year title, in succession to the now retired Bret Hanover, made it 21 straight Thursday night in the $100,000 International Pace at Yonkers Raceway.

The doubters said Romeo couldn't go the 1½ miles of the International and beat the 11-year-old Cardigan Bay who won the race last year and was accustomed to long distances in his native New Zealand.

What happened Driver George Sholty took Romeo away from the No. 1 post position and turned back all challenges to bring home the 1-4 favorite by one length over Cardigan Bay.

For about five seconds around the first turn, Sholty yielded the lead to True Duane and driver Chris Boring, but he regained it at the end of the first quarter and stayed in front the rest of the way.

Stanley Dancer said he had no excuses with Cardigan Bay. "Old CB went a great race for his age, but Romeo has developed into a wonder horse."

Cardigan Bay picked up $25,000 for finishing second and became the second all-time money-winning harness horse with $892,671. He passed Su Mac Lad who retired with $885,000. Bret Hanover is No. 1 on the list with $922,616.

Romeo, who will race next in the $50,000 Good Time pace at Yonkers next Thursday night, earned $50,000 for his 34th victory in 38 starts.

Preakness Winner At 6-5

Damascus, Proud Clarion Top Belmont Field Of 10

NEW YORK (AP) — Proud Clarion, winner of the Kentucky Derby and third in the Preakness, had history, a healthy trainer and a shift to one of the nation's top riders going for him as entries were made today for the 99th running of the $125,000-added Belmont Stakes at Aqueduct Saturday.

The names of 10 3-year-olds, headed by Proud Clarion and favored Damascus of Preakness fame, were slated to be in the entry box by 10:30 a.m., EDT.

If all are in the gate for the 5:30 p.m., EDT, start Saturday, the 1½-mile third leg of the Triple Crown will be worth $149,700, with $105,950 earmarked for the winner. Second place will be worth $25,000, third $12,500 and fourth $6,250.

The oldest of the three races comprising the Triple will be televised by CBS from 5 p.m.-5:45 p.m., EDT.

If Proud Clarion, owned by John Galbreath's Darby Dan Farm, wins he'll be following in the footsteps of another Darby Dan star—Chateaugay. The last time a horse won the Derby, was beaten in the Preakness and then captured the Belmont was in 1963. The horse was Chateaugay.

Braulio Baeza, who rode Chateaugay, will be aboard Proud Clarion in a shift of riders from Bobby Ussery. Galbreath, who played a major role in Baeza buying up his contract from Fred Hooper, had wanted the poker-faced Panamanian to ride Proud Clarion in the Derby. But Braulio already was committed to Successor, the 1966 2-year-old champion.

Loyd (Boo) Gentry, who battled an attack of hepatitis while prepping Proud Clarion for the Derby and then was hospitalized while an assistant took over for the Preakness, has been back running things the past week.

"He looks as sharp as ever," said Gentry today before entering the son of Hail to Reason. "He's not as full chested and broad in the hind quarters as I would like of a horse asked to go 1½ miles. But he's rangy and has a long stride that can eat up the ground."

Lawrenceville Posts Victory In Loop Opener

Lawrenceville posted its opening win in the South Side Baseball League with a 7-3 victory over Newell Thursday.

Amedeo and Reed collected two singles each while Heizler and Smith tripled in Lawrenceville's eight-hit attack. Reed was the winning pitcher.

Carnahan led Newell's seven-hit attack with a double and single. Whittington was the losing pitcher.

In another game played Thursday, Hookstown edged Hanover, 8-7. Sam Laughlin picked up the victory in relief of Ashcroft while Lloyd Cox was the losing hurler.

Larry Berger pounded a triple and single while Larry Anderson socked a double and single to pace the winners.

Tom Smith's double and single paced Hanover.

PORTLAND, Maine — Pete Riccitelli, 174, Portland, outpointed Irish Billy Conlin, 170, Fitchburg, Mass., 8.

LOS ANGELES — Dwight Hawkins, 127, Los Angeles, and Bobby Valder, 127½, San Diego, drew, 10.

Senators Score 4th Win In Row; Tigers Tripped

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Statistical note: The Washington Senators have not lost a game since making their celebrated trade for Mike Epstein.

Whether that happy situation will continue once Epstein enters the line-up is problematical.

The Senators have won four straight since obtaining the big first baseman from Baltimore, Monday, including Thursday night's 1-0 decision over California.

In the only other American League action Thursday, Minnesota blanked Boston 4-0 and Cleveland outhit Detroit 8-2.

In the National League, Cincinnati edged Chicago 7-6, Houston downed New York 4-1, San Francisco blasted Pittsburgh 7-1, St. Louis beat Atlanta 5-4 in 10 innings and Philadelphia whipped Los Angeles 6-1.

Epstein is due to enter the Washington line-up as soon as Manager Gil Hodges feels he has worked off the effects of his self-imposed exile when the Orioles wanted to send him down to the minors. In the interim, the Senators have won a doubleheader from Kansas City and two games from California.

In Thursday's game, Camilo Pascual suddenly returned to the winning form that has been eluding him for the last few years, limiting the Angels to four hits in the tight game.

The curveballing right-hander scattered three singles and gave up a double to Jose Cardenal in the sixth. Cardenal moved to third on Jay Johnstone's fly to center but was out attempting to steal home.

The lone run of the game came in the third inning when Ed Brinkman singled, moved to second on a sacrifice bunt by Pascual and scored on Bob Saverine's single to left.

Dean Chance came up with another brilliant pitching performance, allowing the Red Sox, big hitters of late, just five hits and winning his ninth game of the season against only two defeats.

Celebrating his 26th birthday, Chance struck out 10 and allowed only one Boston runner as far as third base. Home runs by Bob Allison, his sixth, and Russ Nixon, his first, gave Chance all the runs he needed.

Another pitcher, John O'Donoghue, provided the difference in the Detroit-Cleveland tussle, but he did it with his bat as much as with his arm.

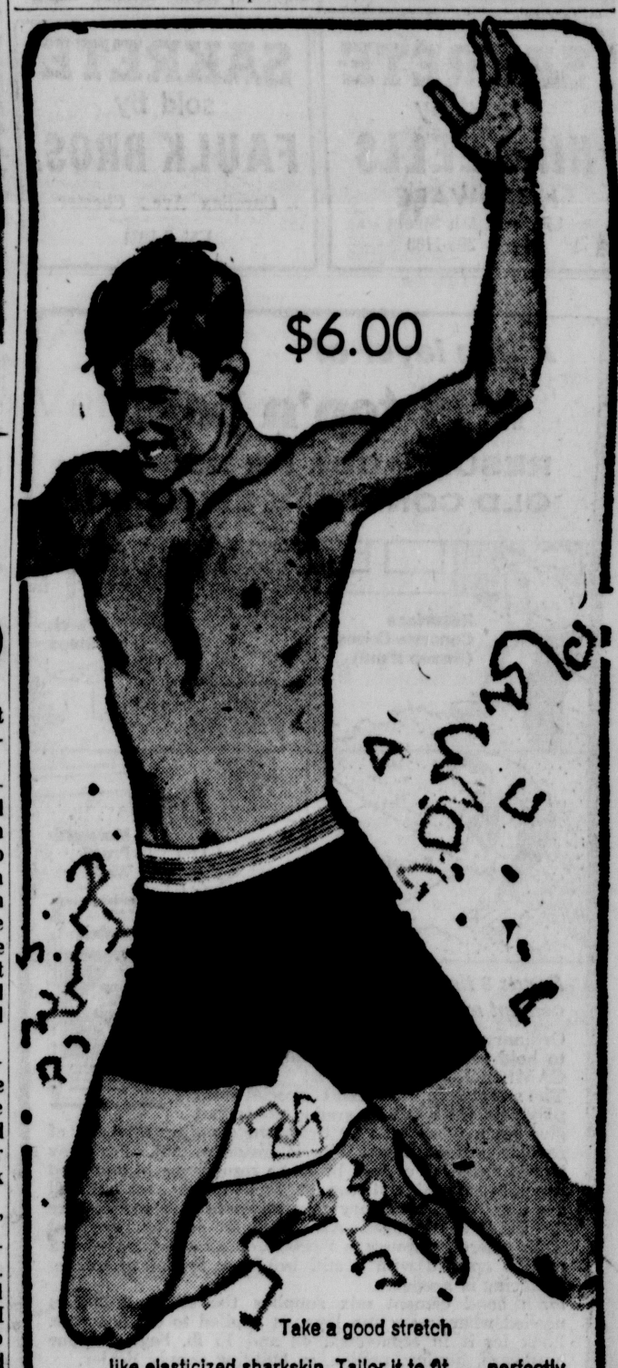

O'Donoghue's grand-slam homer was the big blow in a six-run sixth inning for the Indians, who knocked the Tigers out of first place.

The Cleveland left-hander allowed just two hits until the eighth when he was replaced by Orlando Pena after Mickey Stanley belted a homer for the Tigers.

Chicago, which didn't play Thursday, moved back into the league lead by six percentage points.

Pitcher John (Blue Moon) Odom of the Kansas City Athletics likes No. 13 and that's his uniform number.

For about five seconds around the first turn, Sholty yielded the lead to True Duane and driver Chris Boring, but he regained it at the end of the first quarter and stayed in front the rest of the way.

Stanley Dancer said he had no excuses with Cardigan Bay. "Old CB went a great race for his age, but Romeo has developed into a wonder horse."

Cardigan Bay picked up $25,000 for finishing second and became the second all-time money-winning harness horse with $892,671. He passed Su Mac Lad who retired with $885,000. Bret Hanover is No. 1 on the list with $922,616.

Romeo, who will race next in the $50,000 Good Time pace at Yonkers next Thursday night, earned $50,000 for his 34th victory in 38 starts.

Preakness Winner At 6-5

Damascus, Proud Clarion Top Belmont Field Of 10

NEW YORK (AP) — Proud Clarion, winner of the Kentucky Derby and third in the Preakness, had history, a healthy trainer and a shift to one of the nation's top riders going for him as entries were made today for the 99th running of the $125,000-added Belmont Stakes at Aqueduct Saturday.

The names of 10 3-year-olds, headed by Proud Clarion and favored Damascus of Preakness fame, were slated to be in the entry box by 10:30 a.m., EDT.

If all are in the gate for the 5:30 p.m., EDT, start Saturday, the 1½-mile third leg of the Triple Crown will be worth $149,700, with $105,950 earmarked for the winner. Second place will be worth $25,000, third $12,500 and fourth $6,250.

The oldest of the three races comprising the Triple will be televised by CBS from 5 p.m.-5:45 p.m., EDT.

If Proud Clarion, owned by John Galbreath's Darby Dan Farm, wins he'll be following in the footsteps of another Darby Dan star—Chateaugay. The last time a horse won the Derby, was beaten in the Preakness and then captured the Belmont was in 1963. The horse was Chateaugay.

Braulio Baeza, who rode Chateaugay, will be aboard Proud Clarion in a shift of riders from Bobby Ussery. Galbreath, who played a major role in Baeza buying up his contract from Fred Hooper, had wanted the poker-faced Panamanian to ride Proud Clarion in the Derby. But Braulio already was committed to Successor, the 1966 2-year-old champion.

Loyd (Boo) Gentry, who battled an attack of hepatitis while prepping Proud Clarion for the Derby and then was hospitalized while an assistant took over for the Preakness, has been back running things the past week.

"He looks as sharp as ever," said Gentry today before entering the son of Hail to Reason. "He's not as full chested and broad in the hind quarters as I would like of a horse asked to go 1½ miles. But he's rangy and has a long stride that can eat up the ground."

Lawrenceville Posts Victory In Loop Opener

Lawrenceville posted its opening win in the South Side Baseball League with a 7-3 victory over Newell Thursday.

Amedeo and Reed collected two singles each while Heizler and Smith tripled in Lawrenceville's eight-hit attack. Reed was the winning pitcher.

Carnahan led Newell's seven-hit attack with a double and single. Whittington was the losing pitcher.

In another game played Thursday, Hookstown edged Hanover, 8-7. Sam Laughlin picked up the victory in relief of Ashcroft while Lloyd Cox was the losing hurler.

Larry Berger pounded a triple and single while Larry Anderson socked a double and single to pace the winners.

Tom Smith's double and single paced Hanover.

Senators Score 4th Win In Row; Tigers Tripped

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Statistical note: The Washington Senators have not lost a game since making their celebrated trade for Mike Epstein.

Whether that happy situation will continue once Epstein enters the line-up is problematical.

The Senators have won four straight since obtaining the big first baseman from Baltimore, Monday, including Thursday night's 1-0 decision over California.

In the only other American League action Thursday, Minnesota blanked Boston 4-0 and Cleveland outhit Detroit 8-2.

In the National League, Cincinnati edged Chicago 7-6, Houston downed New York 4-1, San Francisco blasted Pittsburgh 7-1, St. Louis beat Atlanta 5-4 in 10 innings and Philadelphia whipped Los Angeles 6-1.

Epstein is due to enter the Washington line-up as soon as Manager Gil Hodges feels he has worked off the effects of his self-imposed exile when the Orioles wanted to send him down to the minors. In the interim, the Senators have won a doubleheader from Kansas City and two games from California.

In Thursday's game, Camilo Pascual suddenly returned to the winning form that has been eluding him for the last few years, limiting the Angels to four hits in the tight game.

The curveballing right-hander scattered three singles and gave up a double to Jose Cardenal in the sixth. Cardenal moved to third on Jay Johnstone's fly to center but was out attempting to steal home.

The lone run of the game came in the third inning when Ed Brinkman singled, moved to second on a sacrifice bunt by Pascual and scored on Bob Saverine's single to left.

Dean Chance came up with another brilliant pitching performance, allowing the Red Sox, big hitters of late, just five hits and winning his ninth game of the season against only two defeats.

Celebrating his 26th birthday, Chance struck out 10 and allowed only one Boston runner as far as third base. Home runs by Bob Allison, his sixth, and Russ Nixon, his first, gave Chance all the runs he needed.

Another pitcher, John O'Donoghue, provided the difference in the Detroit-Cleveland tussle, but he did it with his bat as much as with his arm.

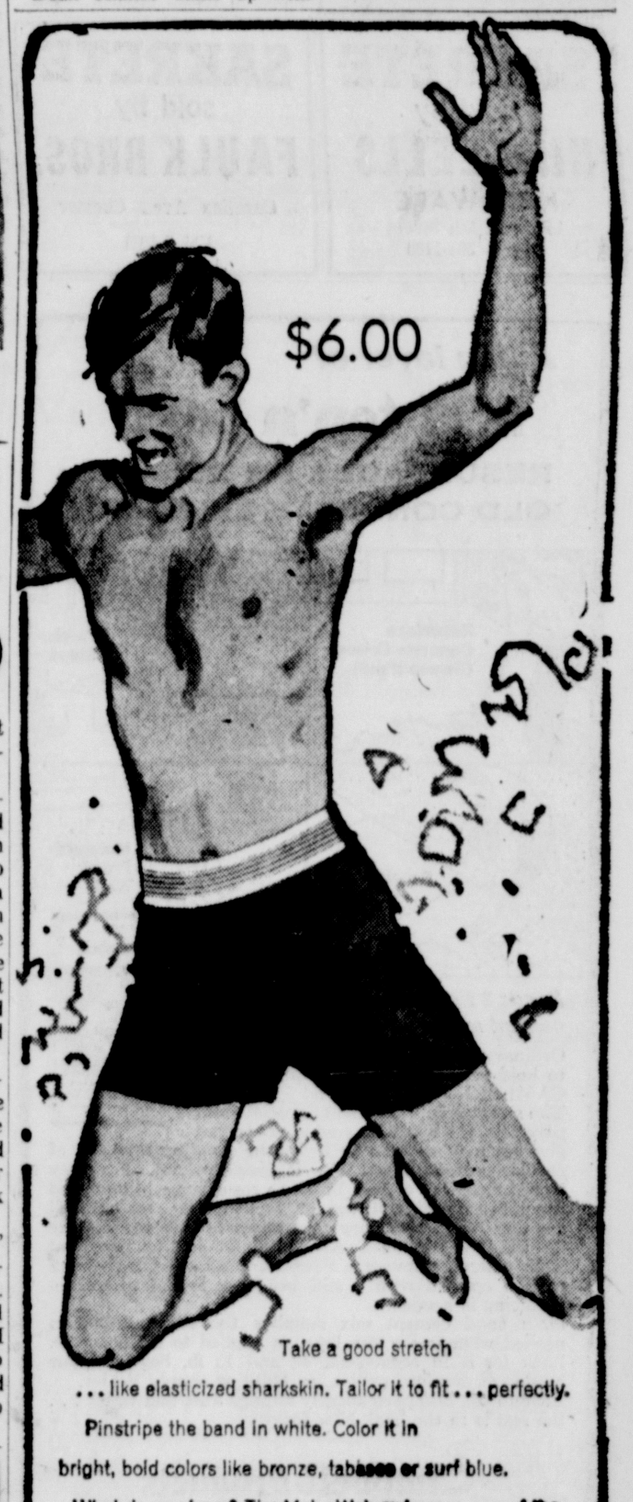

O'Donoghue's grand-slam homer was the big blow in a six-run sixth inning for the Indians, who knocked the Tigers out of first place.

The Cleveland left-hander allowed just two hits until the eighth when he was replaced by Orlando Pena after Mickey Stanley belted a homer for the Tigers.

Chicago, which didn't play Thursday, moved back into the league lead by six percentage points.

Pitcher John (Blue Moon) Odom of the Kansas City Athletics likes No. 13 and that's his uniform number.

If Auto Club Says OK

Turbine Cars May Take Over Racing Scene Soon

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — A fleet of turbine-powered cars may be hitting the championship racing circuit soon.

That is if the U.S. Auto Club, race sanctioning body, gives its official blessing.

Anthony (Andy) Granatelli said Thursday he will produce 10 copies of the turbine car that almost ran away with the Indianapolis 500-mile race Wednesday. Parnelli Jones was 10 miles from the checkered flag when forced out.

A. J. Foyt won the race in a Coyote-Ford he helped design.

Granatelli, president of Studebaker Corporation's STP Division and turbine sponsor, said, "Although we were knocked out by a freak failure of a $6 ball bearing assembly, a one in a million failure, we proved without question the turbocar is the racing machine of tomorrow."

Whether the turbine is permitted to race further against the conventional piston engines may be settled when the USAC rules committee meets June 5.

"It definitely will be brought up," said Henry Banks, the club's director of competition. "It's our job to keep competition even. Arranging formulas for that purpose is a foremost consideration."

There were cries of foul when the turbine came to the Indianapolis Motor Speedway this year. Opponents claimed it was like letting a motorcycle in a bicycle race and the piston-engine drivers would be battling only for second place.

"There were no ground rules for a turbine and we think we came up with a pretty good formula for one," Banks said. "All you can do for a new development is run it once and then reconsider."

Banks pointed out the turbine alone wasn't responsible for the car's fine showing. He said it was a combination of an extraordinarily fine chassis, four-wheel drive, the turbine and Parnelli Jones.

Granatelli gave a "rough estimate" of $67,500 to produce the turbine car. He said there still were some costs to figure but the Pratt & Whitney aircraft-type engine would be about $30,000 and the chassis about $37,500.

He said this was about $15,000 more than the typical piston model, but the turbine engine would last for 10 years of racing while two, three or more piston engines are needed sometimes in one season.

The sportsman - industrialist said he has had several inquiries and "as soon as we have 10 firm orders in hand, we will start production at our Paxton shops in Santa Monica, Calif."

Granatelli said he didn't plan to put the turbine on the shorter tracks of the championship circuit because Jones has no desire to drive in other championship-type races and the car must be returned to Santa Monica for a thorough check. He added, however, that after the check the car would be ready to drive on any track and at any time Jones desires.

Calling the car one of "magnificent safety," Granatelli said the four-wheel drive enabled Jones to pass other cars on the left or right, control a spin after another car made contact and skim over oil spots without spinning.

Lawyers Top Central 9-3 In Colt Loop

The Lawyers scored in each of the first five innings and wound up with a 9-3 victory over Central Service in a Colt League contest Friday.

Steve Murray picked up the victory as three Lawyer hurlers limited Central Service to three hits. Central also committed five errors to help the Lawyers cause.

While Murray gave up all three hits, relief pitcher Bruce Christian hurled three innings of hitless baseball. Cornell was charged with the loss.

Leading the Lawyers at the plate was Eckles with two hits.

McVay was in control all the way striking out 14 batters and allowing a hit in the first and last innings. Burbick's scored their lone run in the fourth inning on a walk and error.

Seevers was the losing pitcher allowing eight hits.

In another contest, Litten's paced by a two-run homer by catcher Mike Horoszko tripped Sevy's Drugs, 5-2.

Litten's took a 4-0 lead before Sevy's scored single runs in the fifth and sixth innings. One run came on a homer by Deem.

Terry Hoyt was the winning pitcher allowing seven hits while Hall was the loser. Jay Davis was three-for-three, scored two runs and drove in a pair of runs for Litten's.

Best Of All Favored At The Meadows

WASHINGTON — Best Of All is the confident prediction of both the track handicapper and The Meadows management in regard to tonight's opening of the racing season at the route 19 plant.

The track morning line specialist has tabbed Best Of All, the 3-year-old pacer, as a strong favorite in the first division of tonight's inaugural feature, the Hanover and Hempt Farm Stakes carrying divisional purses of $10,493 and $10,193.

And "Best of all" sums up the outlook of General Manager M. Joseph Lynch on the prospects for this fifth season of racing here.

Both Best Of All and The Meadows have good reasons to expect their most successful seasons.

A speedy son of Good Time, Best of All, was 2-year-old pacer of the year last season and earned $83,367. This season the Jimmy Hackett - trained colt has already earned $51,656 with a victory in an overnight event, a second in The Messenger and a third in The Battle of Brandywine. Best Of All has a mark of 1:57.4(m) and was timed in 1:59.4, finishing second in The Messenger on the Roosevelt half-mile track.

The Meadows' track record of 1:57.2, set by Bret Hanover in 1966, could be in jeopardy as there are a number of speedballs in Best of All's division that could chase him all the way and, perhaps, even post an upset. The opposition includes Red Wave, Howard Beissinger; Quebec Hanover, Roger White; Bullet Star, Tom Wilburn; Zero Dares, Robert Corey; Reo Water, Don Corneau; Excellere, Kenny Ross and Judge's Choice, Bruck Nickells.

In the other division, the field is made up of Payson Hanover, Beissinger; Liberace Hanover, White; Jet Attack, Hackett; Jodey Rocks, Wilburn; Swinging Time, Tom Brinkefhoff; Recnops Jack, Jack Smith and I'm The Judge, Dick Brandt.

The Meadows has started a speed-up operation designed to get its patrons home at least 30 minutes earlier this season. Post time will be 7:45 and the track has newly-installed computers to help expedite the posting of pari-mutuel payoffs.

There will be two new betting denominations, the $5 daily double and perfecta replacing the $10 wager in these special pools. The $2 perfecta and double, of course, will be continued. Perfecta betting will be on the sixth and ninth races. There will be no twin double betting since that form of wagering has been outlawed in Pennsylvania.

If Auto Club Says OK

Turbine Cars May Take Over Racing Scene Soon

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — A fleet of turbine-powered cars may be hitting the championship racing circuit soon.

That is if the U.S. Auto Club, race sanctioning body, gives its official blessing.

Anthony (Andy) Granatelli said Thursday he will produce 10 copies of the turbine car that almost ran away with the Indianapolis 500-mile race Wednesday. Parnelli Jones was 10 miles from the checkered flag when forced out.

A. J. Foyt won the race in a Coyote-Ford he helped design.

Granatelli, president of Studebaker Corporation's STP Division and turbine sponsor, said, "Although we were knocked out by a freak failure of a $6 ball bearing assembly, a one in a million failure, we proved without question the turbocar is the racing machine of tomorrow."

Whether the turbine is permitted to race further against the conventional piston engines may be settled when the USAC rules committee meets June 5.

"It definitely will be brought up," said Henry Banks, the club's director of competition. "It's our job to keep competition even. Arranging formulas for that purpose is a foremost consideration."

There were cries of foul when the turbine came to the Indianapolis Motor Speedway this year. Opponents claimed it was like letting a motorcycle in a bicycle race and the piston-engine drivers would be battling only for second place.

"There were no ground rules for a turbine and we think we came up with a pretty good formula for one," Banks said. "All you can do for a new development is run it once and then reconsider."

Banks pointed out the turbine alone wasn't responsible for the car's fine showing. He said it was a combination of an extraordinarily fine chassis, four-wheel drive, the turbine and Parnelli Jones.

Granatelli gave a "rough estimate" of $67,500 to produce the turbine car. He said there still were some costs to figure but the Pratt & Whitney aircraft-type engine would be about $30,000 and the chassis about $37,500.

He said this was about $15,000 more than the typical piston model, but the turbine engine would last for 10 years of racing while two, three or more piston engines are needed sometimes in one season.

The sportsman - industrialist said he has had several inquiries and "as soon as we have 10 firm orders in hand, we will start production at our Paxton shops in Santa Monica, Calif."

Granatelli said he didn't plan to put the turbine on the shorter tracks of the championship circuit because Jones has no desire to drive in other championship-type races and the car must be returned to Santa Monica for a thorough check. He added, however, that after the check the car would be ready to drive on any track and at any time Jones desires.

Calling the car one of "magnificent safety," Granatelli said the four-wheel drive enabled Jones to pass other cars on the left or right, control a spin after another car made contact and skim over oil spots without spinning.

Best Of All Favored At The Meadows

WASHINGTON — Best Of All is the confident prediction of both the track handicapper and The Meadows management in regard to tonight's opening of the racing season at the route 19 plant.

The track morning line specialist has tabbed Best Of All, the 3-year-old pacer, as a strong favorite in the first division of tonight's inaugural feature, the Hanover and Hempt Farm Stakes carrying divisional purses of $10,493 and $10,193.

And "Best of all" sums up the outlook of General Manager M. Joseph Lynch on the prospects for this fifth season of racing here.

Both Best Of All and The Meadows have good reasons to expect their most successful seasons.

A speedy son of Good Time, Best of All, was 2-year-old pacer of the year last season and earned $83,367. This season the Jimmy Hackett - trained colt has already earned $51,656 with a victory in an overnight event, a second in The Messenger and a third in The Battle of Brandywine. Best Of All has a mark of 1:57.4(m) and was timed in 1:59.4, finishing second in The Messenger on the Roosevelt half-mile track.

The Meadows' track record of 1:57.2, set by Bret Hanover in 1965, could be in jeopardy as there are a number of speedballs in Best of All's division that could chase him all the way and, perhaps, even post an upset. The opposition includes Red Wave, Howard Beissinger; Quebec Hanover, Roger White; Bullet Star, Tom Wilburn; Zero Dares, Robert Corey; Reo Water, Don Corneau; Excellere, Kenny Ross and Judge's Choice, Bruck Nickells.

In the other division, the field is made up of Payson Hanover, Beissinger; Liberace Hanover, White; Jet Attack, Hackett; Jodey Rocks, Wilburn; Swinging Time, Tom Brinkefhoff; Recneps Jack, Jack Smith and I'm The Judge, Dick Brandt.

The Meadows has started a speed-up operation designed to get its patrons home at least 30 minutes earlier this season. Post time will be 7:45 and the track has newly-installed computers to help expedite the posting of pari-mutuel payoffs.

There will be two new betting denominations, the $5 daily double and perfecta replacing the $10 wager in these special pools. The $2 perfecta and double, of course, will be continued. Perfecta betting will be on the sixth and ninth races. There will be no twin double betting since that form of wagering has been outlawed in Pennsylvania.

McVay Hurls 2-Hitter For Laundrymen

Randy McVay slammed a two-run homer and turned in a two-hitter as Woodbine posted a 4-1 Pony League victory over Burbick's Thursday.

Seevers was the losing pitcher allowing eight hits.

In another contest, Litten's paced by a two-run homer by catcher Mike Horoszko tripped Sevy's Drugs, 5-2.

Litten's took a 4-0 lead before Sevy's scored single runs in the fifth and sixth innings. One run came on a homer by Deem.

Terry Hoyt was the winning pitcher allowing seven hits while Hall was the loser. Jay Davis was three-for-three, scored two runs and drove in a pair of runs for Litten's.

QUESTION: How do some doors open automatically?

ANSWER: Jerry is walking to the supermarket door, which is opening without his touching it. This apparent miracle might have been accomplished by his weight on a floor panel starting a motor. But in the case of our picture, an electric eye is doing the job. The large arrows point to small boxes. From one comes a beam of light which is focused exactly on the other. Inside this second box is a tube called a photoelectric cell. Inside of this is a wire loop, the anode (positive) and a part coated with light-sensitive material, the cathode (negative). When the light beam strikes the cathode, electrons flow from cathode to anode and around an electric circuit, creating a flow of current. If something blocks the beam, the current flow stops. Changes of current, off and on, are used in the operating mechanism to start an electric motor and this is what is opening the door in front of Jerry. The electric eye may also be used to control TV sets (lower right).

Virginia Authorities Get Man In Car Case

LISBON — Danny Joe Blake, 21, of Springfield, Va., was released to Virginia authorities this morning at the County Jail. They will return him to Arlington County to answer a charge of auto theft.

Blake waived extradition at a hearing Wednesday before Judge Joel H. Sharp in Common Pleas Court.

Highway patrolmen of Post 15 arrested Blake on a traffic charge a week ago and subsequently found the car had been stolen.

Driver Given Fine Of $200 In Drag Race

Raymond Welch, 21, of Beaver Falls R.D. 1, convicted today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of drag racing in downtown East Liverpool, was fined $200 and costs.

Welch was arrested May 20 at 1:20 a. m. by Patrolmen Paul C. Blevins and Charles Coen, who alleged he raced at high speed with another auto on E. 6th St. The other driver eluded police by turning north onto Walnut at E. 6th St., but the officers continued the pursuit of Welch, who turned south on Walnut toward E. 5th St.

The officers said they apprehended him as he prepared to turn off Walnut onto E. 5th, heading for East End. Welch pleaded not guilty. He was represented by Bernard Fineman.

Meanwhile, the judge decreed a fine of $200 and costs for George Raffa, 52, of 21 Washington St., Newell, who was cited by the State Highway Patrol on a charge of driving while intoxicated May 18 after his auto went off the Sprucevale Rd. Raffa also was given a three-day jail term.

The judge ascertained that Raffa spent two days in jail at the time of his arrest. He suspended the remaining day after the defendant presented a physician's certificate asserting that further confinement would be injurious to his health. Raffa pleaded "no contest." He was represented by George Aronson.

Donald Knox, 18, of Fairview Rd., Chester, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of operating an auto at night without using his headlights. He was cited by the patrol Monday at 9:05 p.m. on Route 30.

Barbara Ann Grimm, 25, of Salineville R.D. 1 was fined $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd. She was cited by the patrol Sunday at 2:05 a.m.

Ex-Chester Resident Dies In Auto Mishap

A former Chester resident is dead and his brother remains in "critical" condition following an accident May 26 on Ohio Route 93 just north of the Hocking-Perry County line near New Straitsville.

Funeral services for John D. Gill, 70, of New Straitsville were held Wednesday at Shawnee, Ohio. He left here 40 years ago. Survivors from this area include two brothers, Jess Gill of Route 30, Chester, and Andy Gill of Beechwood Ave., East Liverpool.

He died May 27 of injuries received in the two-car collision.

Gill's brother, Leslie Gill, 81, also of New Straitsville, was admitted to the Hocking Valley Hospital.

City Lot Leased As Terminal For Hauling Concern

The city administration signed a contract Thursday with Tajon, Inc., of Mercer, Pa., for lease of the former playlot site at E. 2nd and Washington Sts. for use in trans-shipment of ferro-alloys, fluorspar and other materials used in steel manufacture.

The company will pay $150 monthly under the lease, which is an "open end" agreement renewable from month to month. The ground will be used as a terminal for handling materials which are shipped into East Liverpool by river or rail and then transported to steel mills throughout a wide area.

Tajon, Inc., primarily handles materials from the Milliron Co., the Parsons Coal Co. and the S. H. Bell Co. It will erect a temporary office on the site, which also will be used for storage of trucks and commodities.

In addition to the raw materials used in steel plants, Tajon also handles rock salt utilized in highway ice control in the winter.

Driver Given Fine Of $200 In Drag Race

Raymond Welch, 21, of Beaver Falls R.D. 1, convicted today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of drag racing in downtown East Liverpool, was fined $200 and costs.

Welch was arrested May 20 at 1:20 a. m. by Patrolmen Paul C. Blevins and Charles Coen, who alleged he raced at high speed with another auto on E. 6th St. The other driver eluded police by turning north onto Walnut at E. 6th St., but the officers continued the pursuit of Welch, who turned south on Walnut toward E. 5th St.

The officers said they apprehended him as he prepared to turn off Walnut onto E. 5th, heading for East End. Welch pleaded not guilty. He was represented by Bernard Fineman.

The judge ascertained that Raffa spent two days in jail at the time of his arrest. He suspended the remaining day after the defendant presented a physician's certificate asserting that further confinement would be injurious to his health. Raffa pleaded "no contest." He was represented by George Aronson.

Donald Knox, 18, of Fairview Rd., Chester, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of operating an auto at night without using his headlights. He was cited by the patrol Monday at 9:05 p.m. on Route 30.
